Argolite

1959

May we present "Argi" . . . the spirit of Argo High . . . the embodiment of all students — past and present. Won't you join "Argi" as he looks back over his years at Argo High — good years, fruitful years, formative and informative. Reminisce with him over those "tough" teachers, rejoice with him over that hard wrought football victory, suffer with him through final exams, until that day of shining glory — Graduation.

What will fate have in store for "Argi" as he steps out into the world of young adulthood?

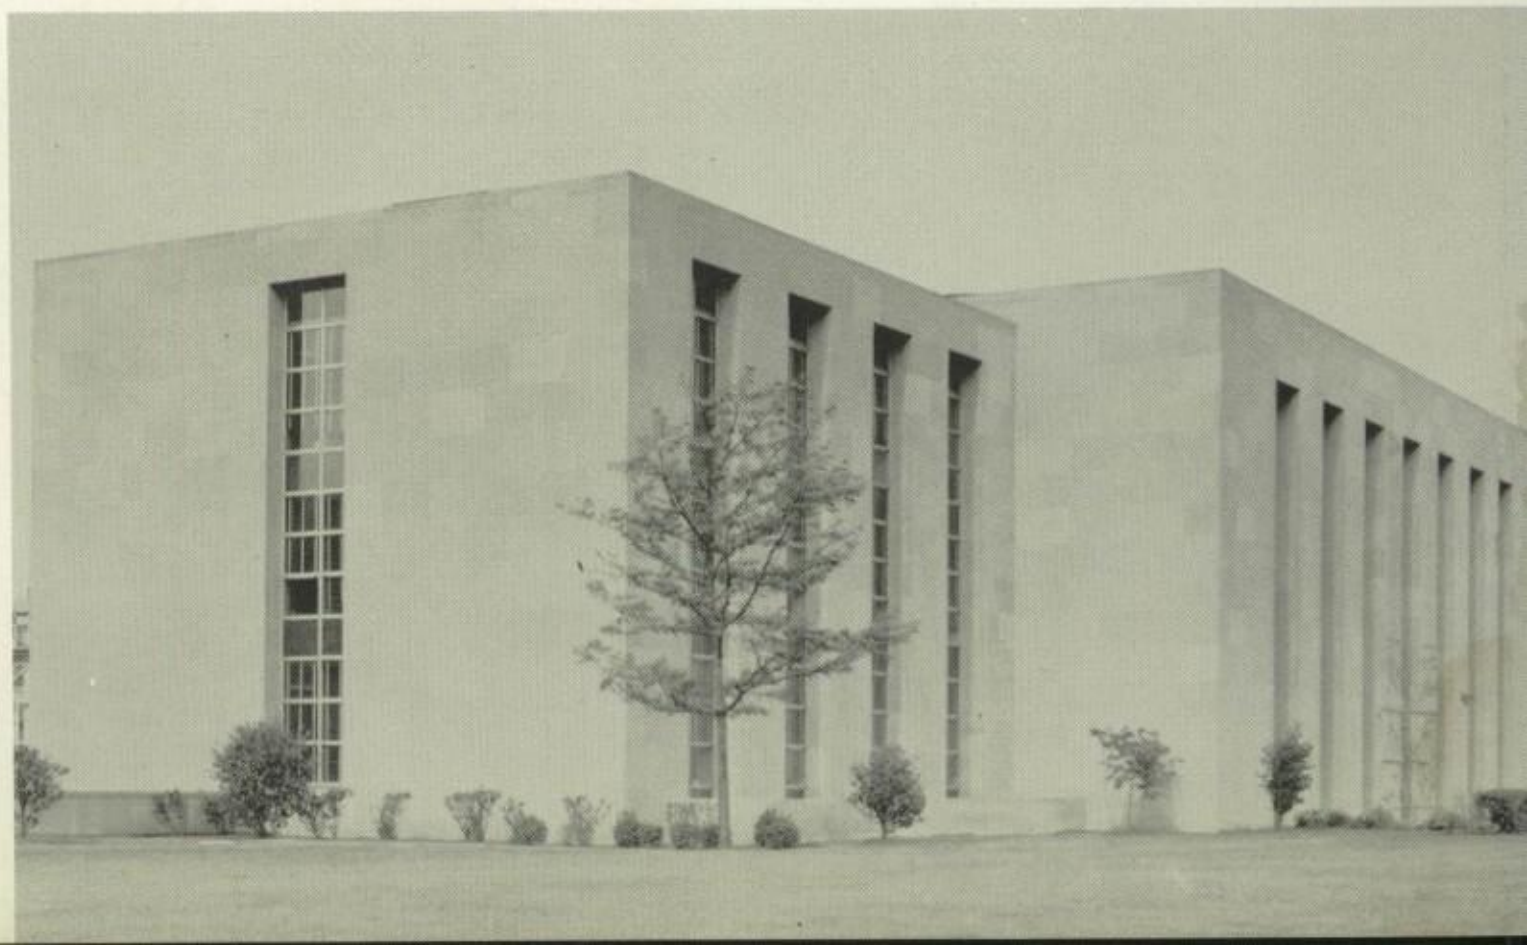
AFTER SCHOOL MEETING PLACES — TO WORK

BELOW: Before and after school snacks are enjoyed by famished Argonauts at Rubels's Bakery and Steves's Restaurant.



Seniors seek jobs at Corn Products after high school days are over.

Couples enjoy relaxing walks through Summit Park.

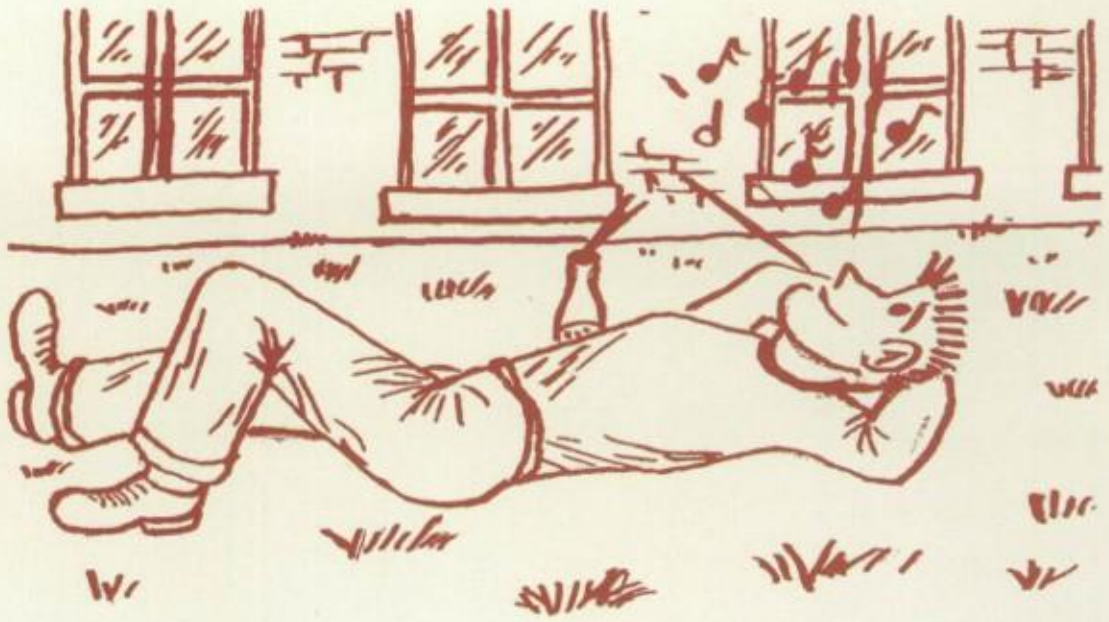
TO RELAX, TO SNACK

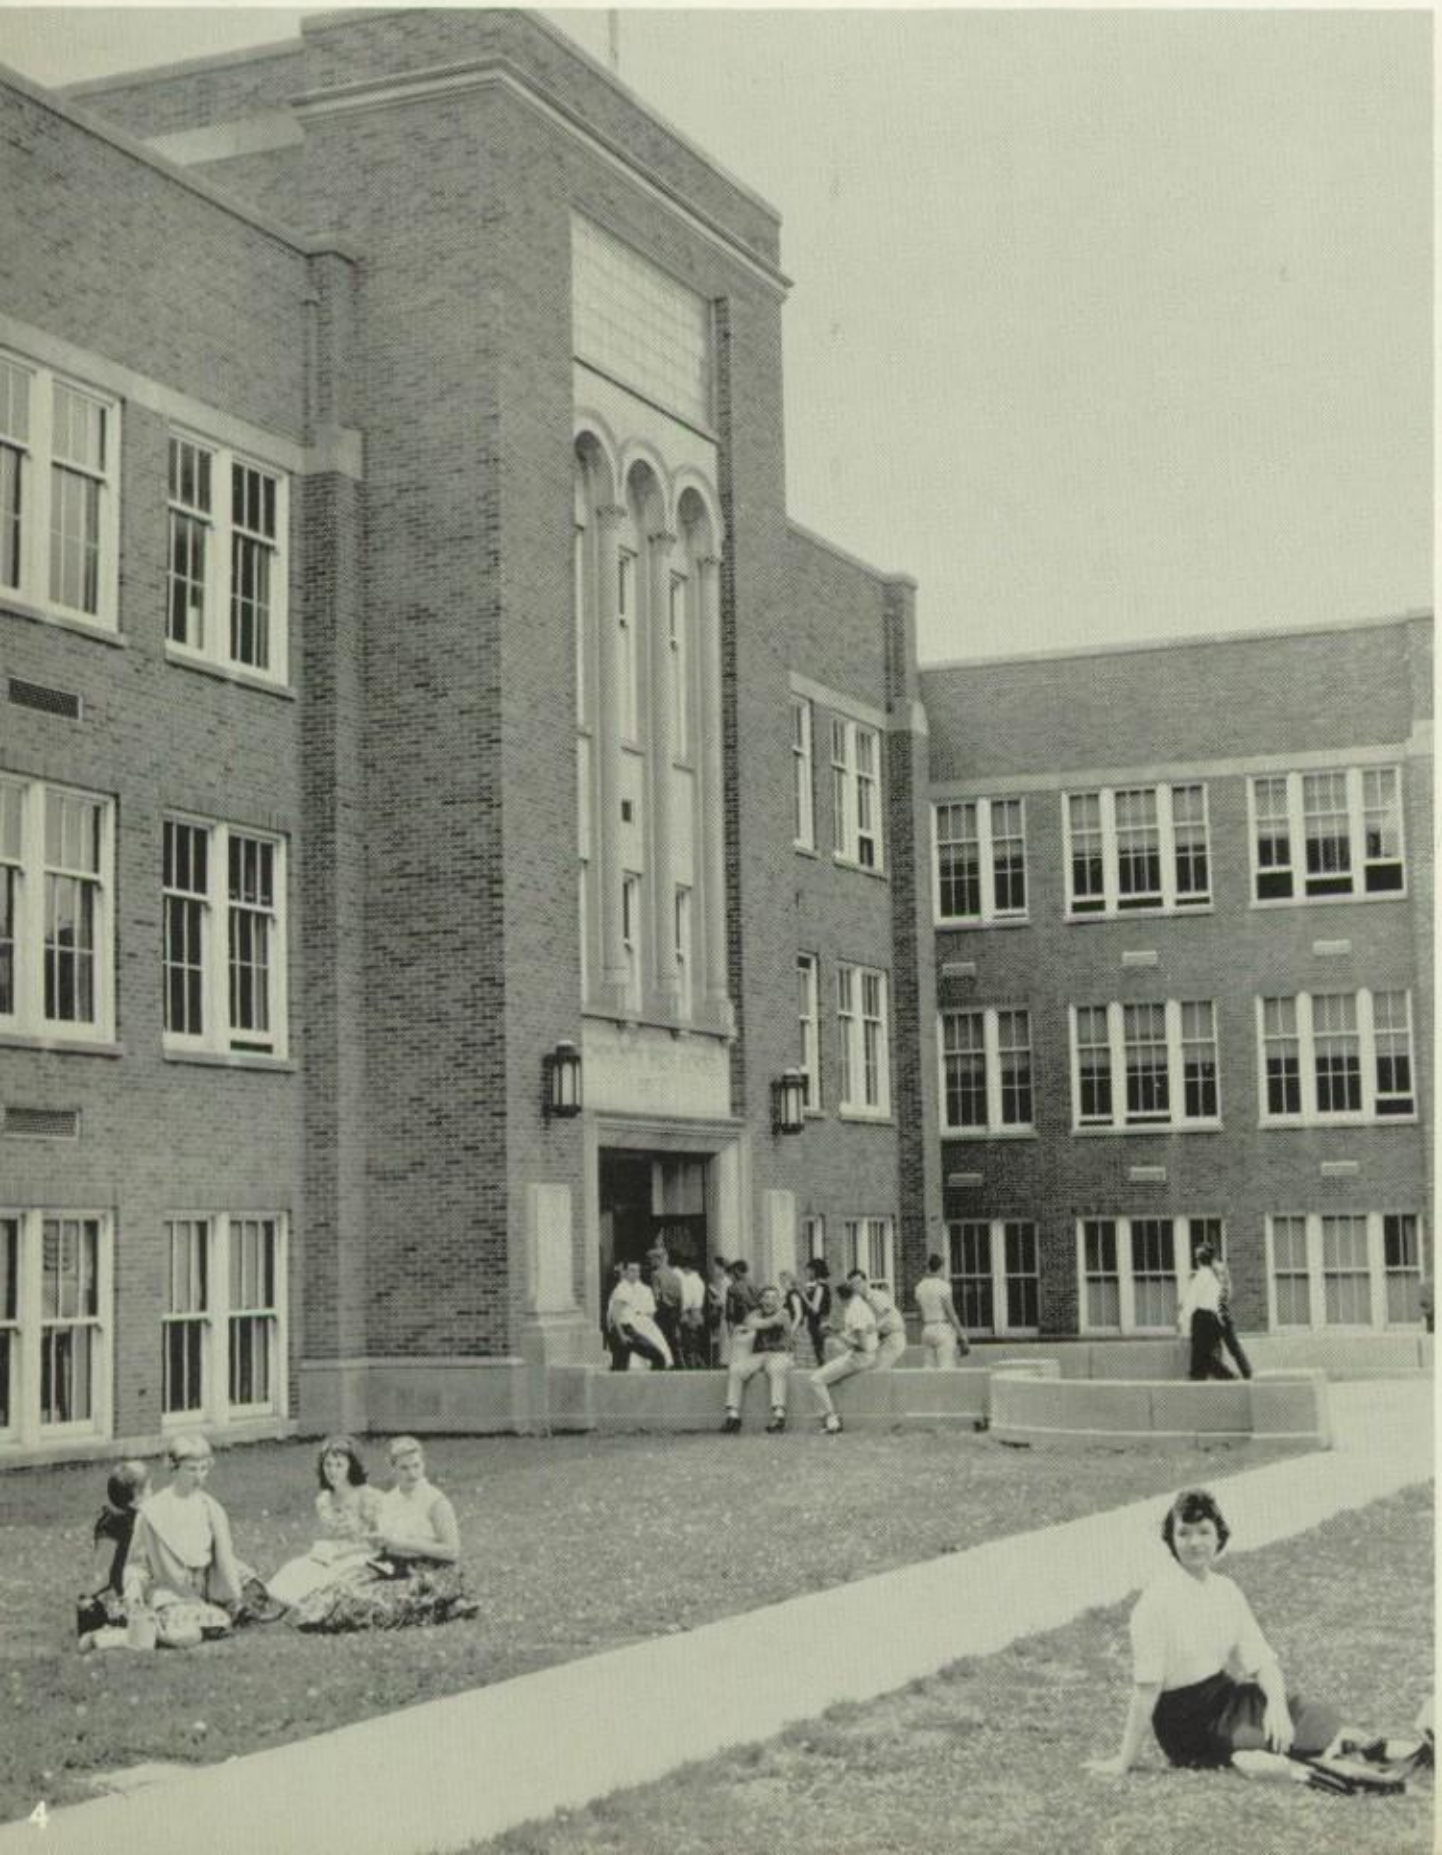
Argonauts seeking an evening of entertainment, tempting food, a place to take a quiet walk, or employment, can be found frequenting these places located in the Argo-Summit area.

Many stop for a quick coke at the Drugstore before catching the bus for home or work.

After a game follow the crowd to Como's for pizza.

"Argi," typical of a high school senior, relaxes on the campus and contemplates the future. High School days and these precious moments spent on the campus will all be gone with the coming of graduation. "Argi" must forget these carefree times and consider the future.

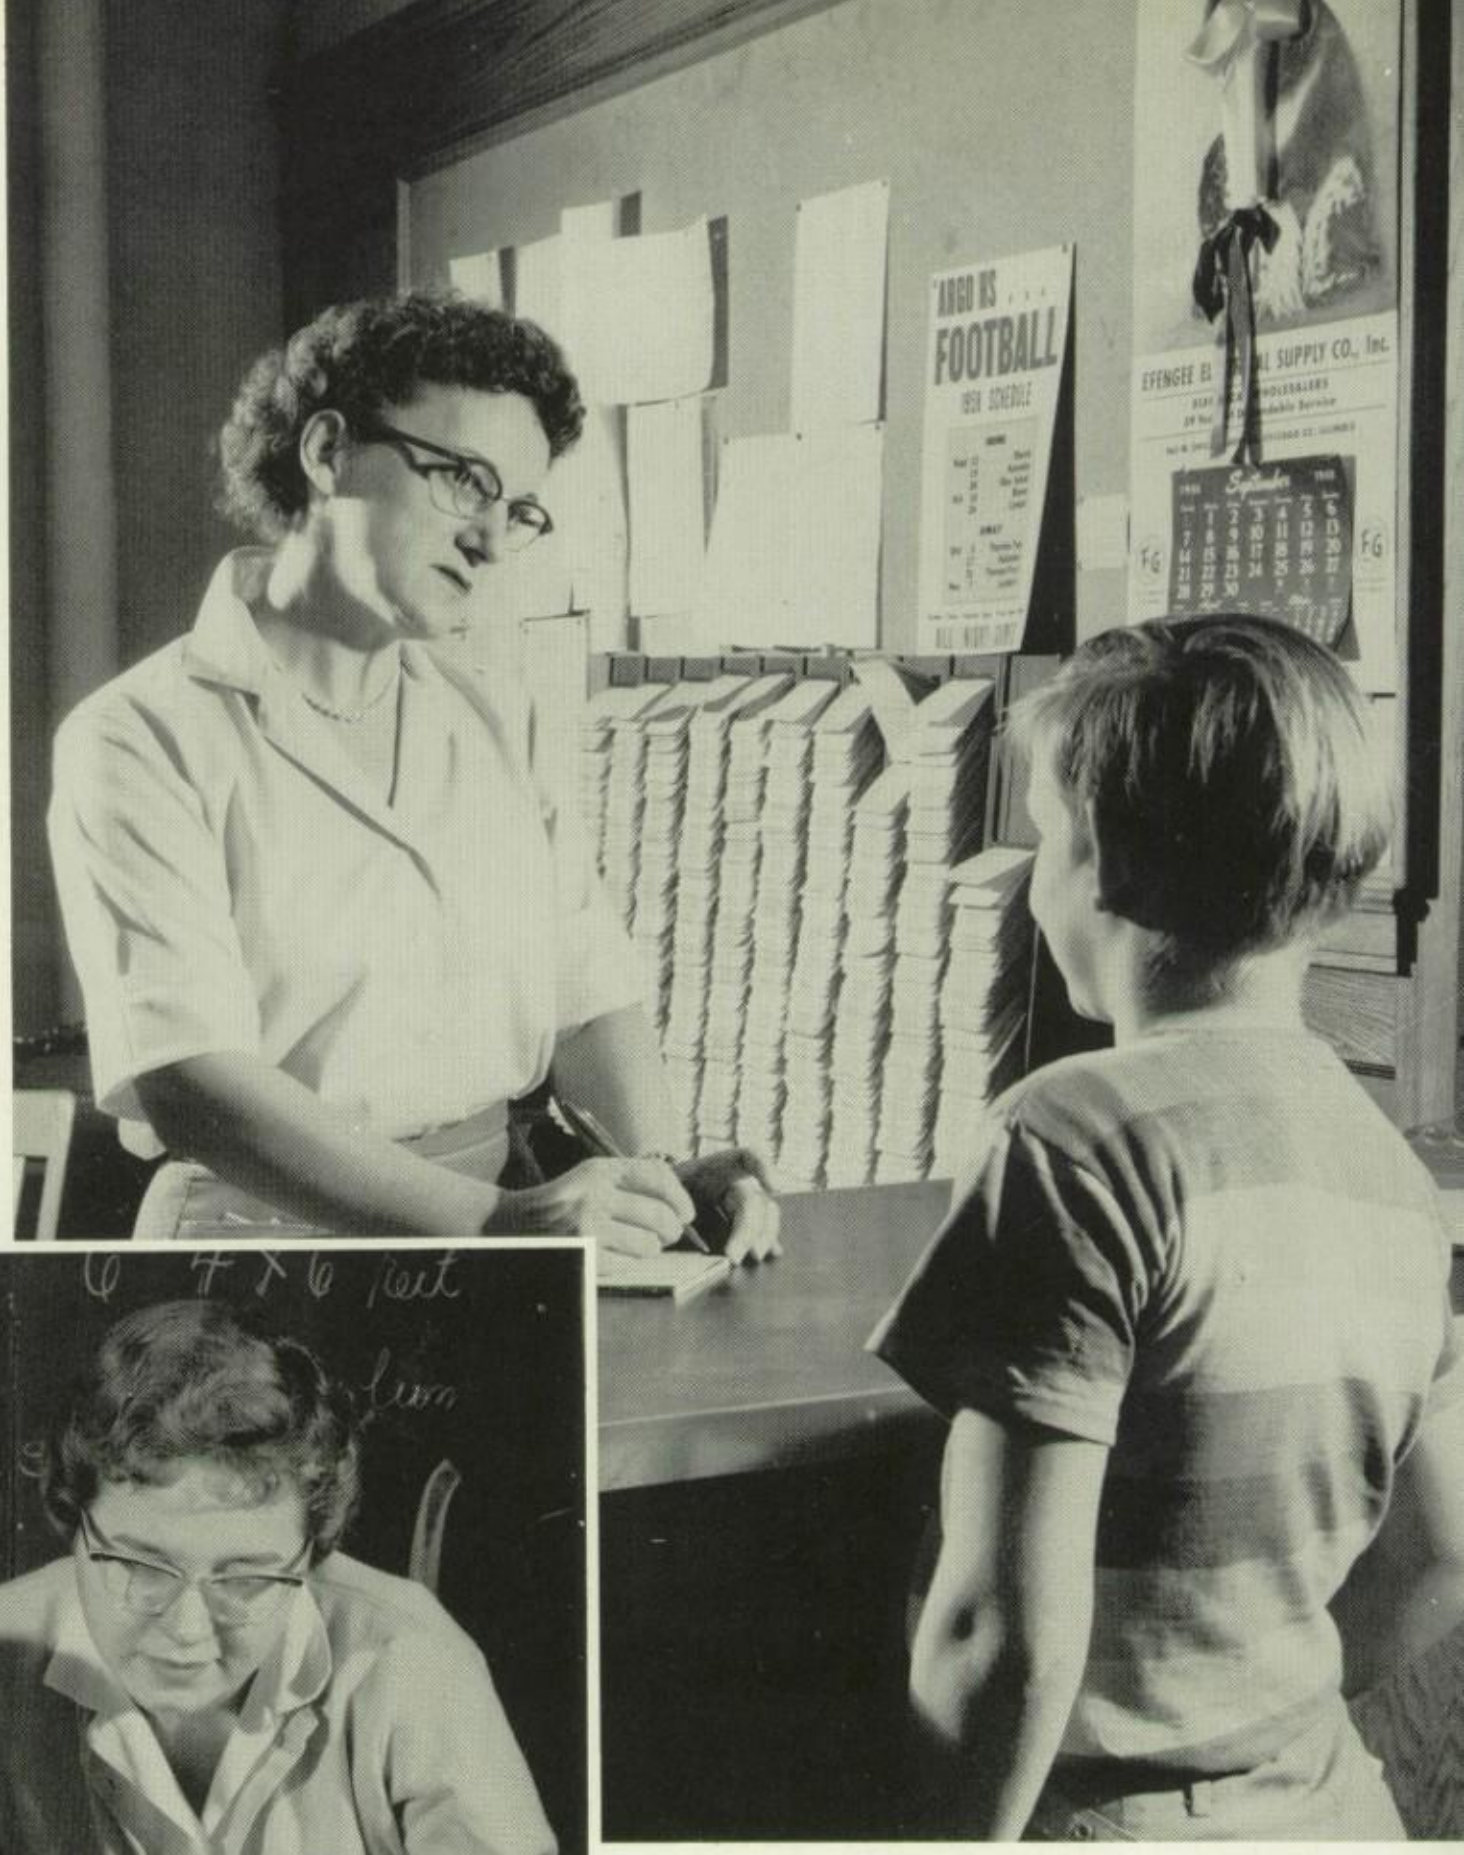




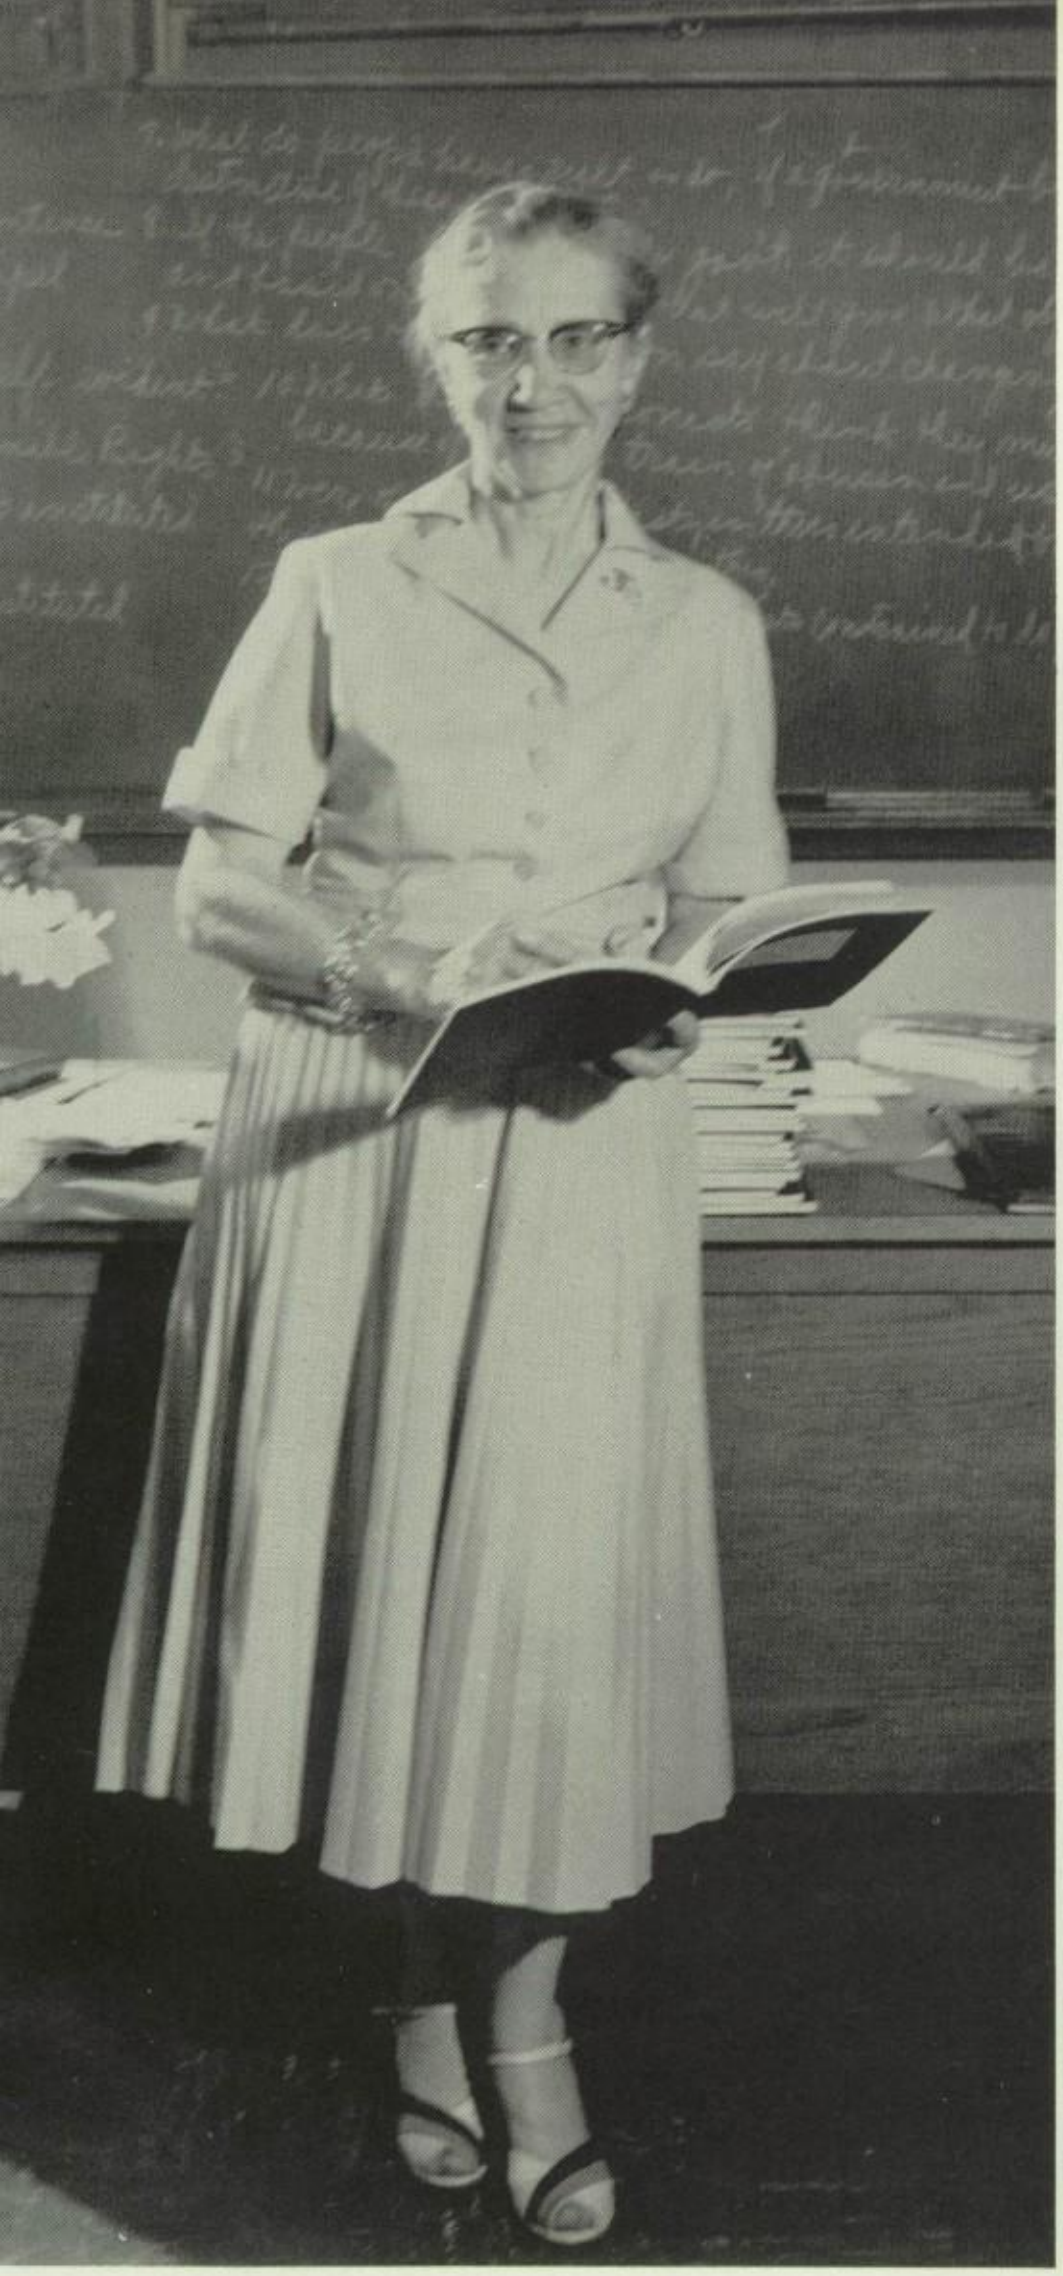
OUR PRIDE AND JOY — ARGO HIGH SCHOOL AND CAMPUS

All who attend Argo Community High School at some time or another enjoy a few moments of relaxation on the spacious campus. Before school, during lunch, and after school the campus is dotted with students discussing the day's activities.

BELOW: Mrs. Ullrich and Pat Froedge struggle with the many problems involved in producing a worthwhile yearbook.



Wanda Malek, who has heard the same story so many times, listens to the version coming from Joe Lhotak.



LEFT: Miss Wilson, always kind and understanding, encourages Seniors to learn about their government.

BELOW: Mr. Mannot, whether giving a chalk-talk to the team or a lecture to the class, his dynamic personality is reflected by the group's admiration.

FAMILIAR FACES

Familiar faces, once evoking widely differing emotions from "Argi"—as befitted the occasion —are now but a memory, to be forgotten in life's busy days or to be cherished forever?

COLORFUL EVENTS OF LAST YEAR —
NOT TO BE FORGOTTEN

Gaily dressed Polynesian girls, a witch doctor, and a guitar duet imported from the mainland, turned the old gym into an island paradise for the Argolite's presentation of "Hawaiian Holiday."

Interpreting the months of the year with bright costumes and water ballet, the girls of the Swim Club presented "Aqua Frolic," another colorful event of last year.

Anxiously awaiting to receive prom programs from Junior Counselor, Frank Mannot, and his wife are Richard Cook, Donna Floyd, Bud Rubel and Kay Norrie.

Jim Nevels (right) tries to spark up some life in exhausted prom guests, Norman Remo, Beverly Slonski, Bob Luckasik, Lynne Vanson, and Bunny Shake.

Time out for a sip of punch and a discussion on where to go after the prom is over.

Prom guests participate in grand march through the Louis XIV Room of the Shoreland Hotel.

After looking over prospective careers "Argi" comes to these conclusions! A job would mean sheer slavery; and college has no appeal because it's too much like work. Ah! But these Navy recruiting posters are most intriguing. Join the Navy . . . see the world . . . wear a handsome uniform . . . receive generous pay. This is the life for "Argi"; clean easy living; not a care in the world.

"You're in the Navy now!" The big step has been taken. From the relatively small world of Argo High to the big world of Apprentice Seaman "Argi." How will this new life differ from what our hero has been used to, or is it really so different? Why not try to draw a comparison between Navy life and life at "Argi's" Alma Mater.

"This is the Navy! I joined to see the wide, wide world. This ship, from bow to stern and back again, is all I've seen of this wide, wide world." These are the thoughts that "Argi," pride of the Navy, thinks to himself as he scrubs away with the "Big Brass" standing overhead. "Yeah, the Brass is always over you!"

"Argi's" thoughts reflect back to the faculty and administration at Argo High. There is such a similarity. There they were, always above you, guiding you on to the richer things in life.

"Oh! to be back again," wishes "Argi." "I'd heed every word my teachers say. They weren't so hard after all. They should have been tougher so that I could have had a taste of this cruel world."

"Three bells already, and I haven't finished scrubbing yet. The Brass will be on my tail."

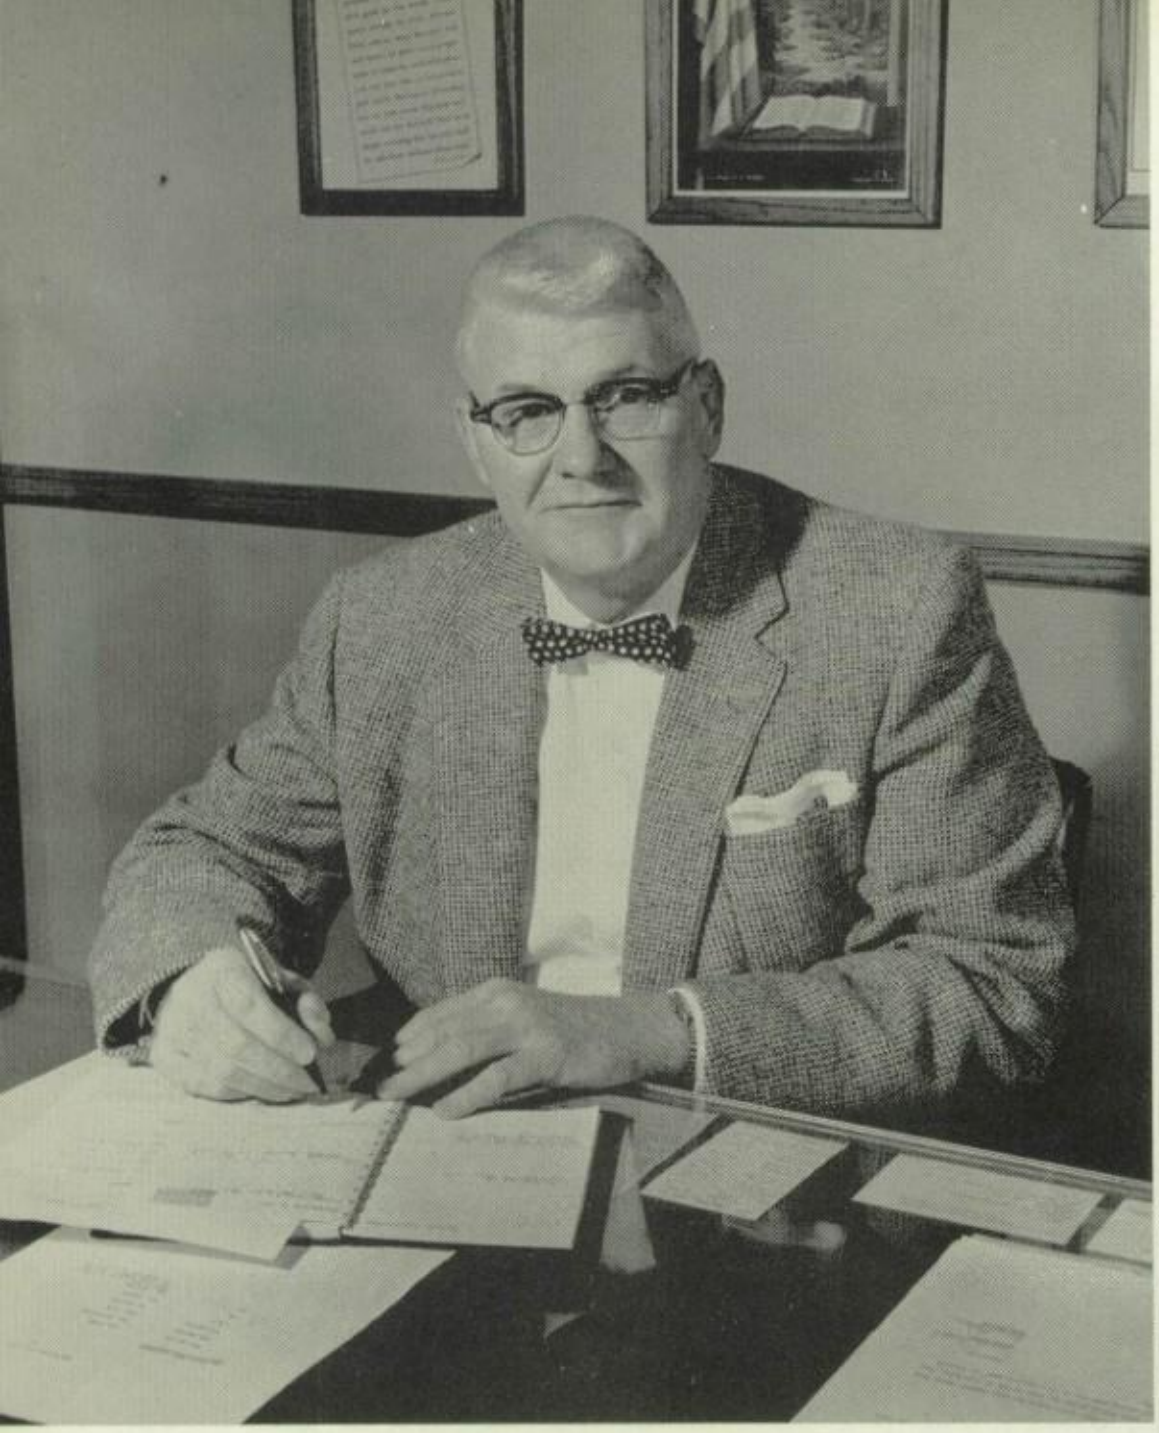
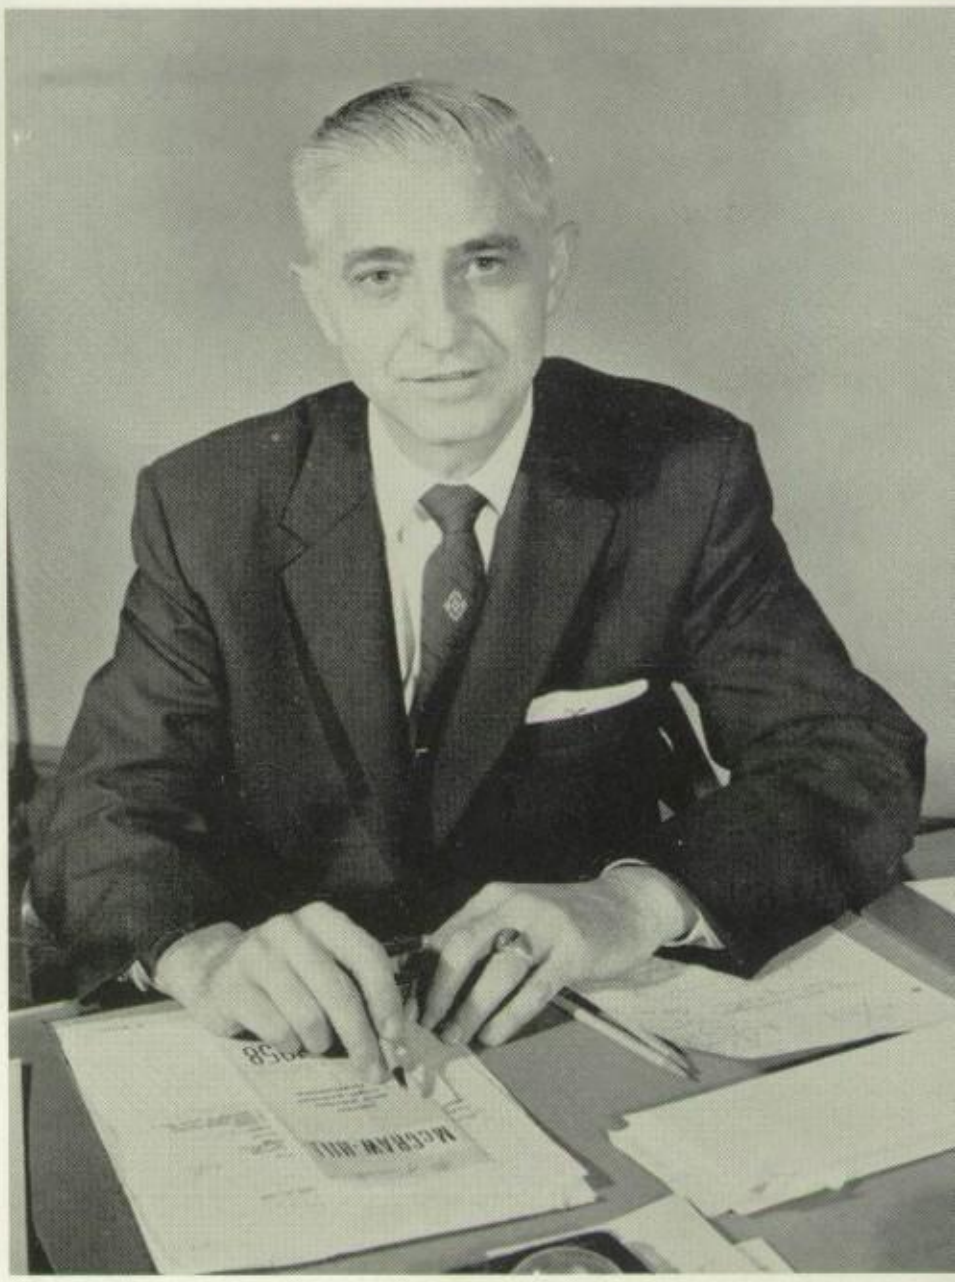
NEW ADMINISTRATORS



MR. JAMES LEWIS, Superintendent



MR. CHARLES KUSENDA, Administrative Assistant

AIM FOR HIGH ACHIEVEMENT BY FACULTY AND STUDENTS

An important change in the administration of Argo Community High School was the appointment of Mr. James W. Lewis as Superintendent. Mr. Lewis, an easy-going man whose special interest is "people in general," hails from Pekin, Illinois, where he taught in the high school for 25 years.

He is married and has two daughters, one of whom is teaching at nearby Carl Sandburg High School. Mr. Lewis attended high school in Waukegan. Upon graduation he went to the University of Illinois (B.S.), the University of Iowa (M.S.), and completed his studies at Butler and Bradley Universities. Prior to coming to Argo he served as Assistant State Superintendent of Schools for four years.

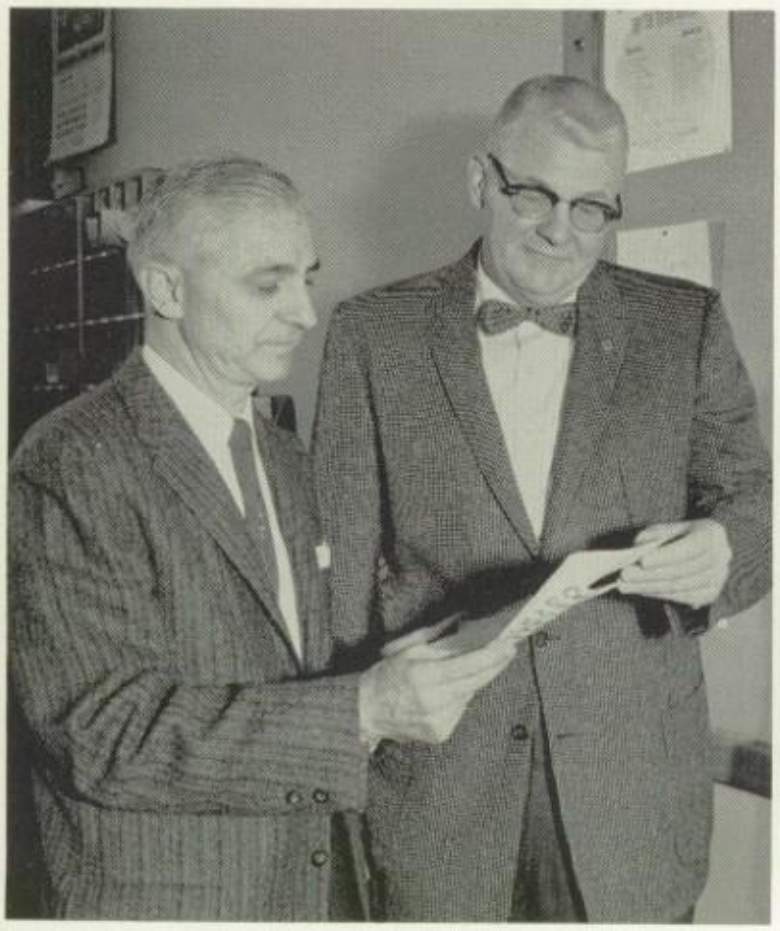
This 6' 2", 225 pounder, whose hobby is fishing, candidly admits that he has no favorite food—he just likes to eat. He is irked at people who "do not conform their actions to the best interests of society."

Being civic-minded, Mr. Lewis has joined, among other groups, the Lions Club and the DesPlaines Valley Improvement Association.

A most popular addition to Argo High's administrative staff was Mr. Charles Kusenda, appointed to the post of Administrative Assistant. Twenty-eight years ago Mr. Kusenda came to Argo, his Alma Mater, as a young teacher just out of Knox College. While he taught at Argo he continued his education and earned a Master's degree from the University of Chicago.

His hard work for the benefit of the school made him one of the most popular and respected faculty members. Even though Mr. Kusenda is constantly concerned with school affairs, he finds time to be an active member of the Willow Springs Lions Club, the Argo-Summit Chamber of Commerce and other civic and educational organizations. His hobbies include fishing, working around the house and watching any kind of an athletic contest.

The Kusendas and their family reside in Willow Springs.



One of many daily discussions between Mr. Kusenda and Mr. Lewis.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Typical work session at a Monday night board meeting.

CITIZENS DEDICATED TO BETTER EDUCATION

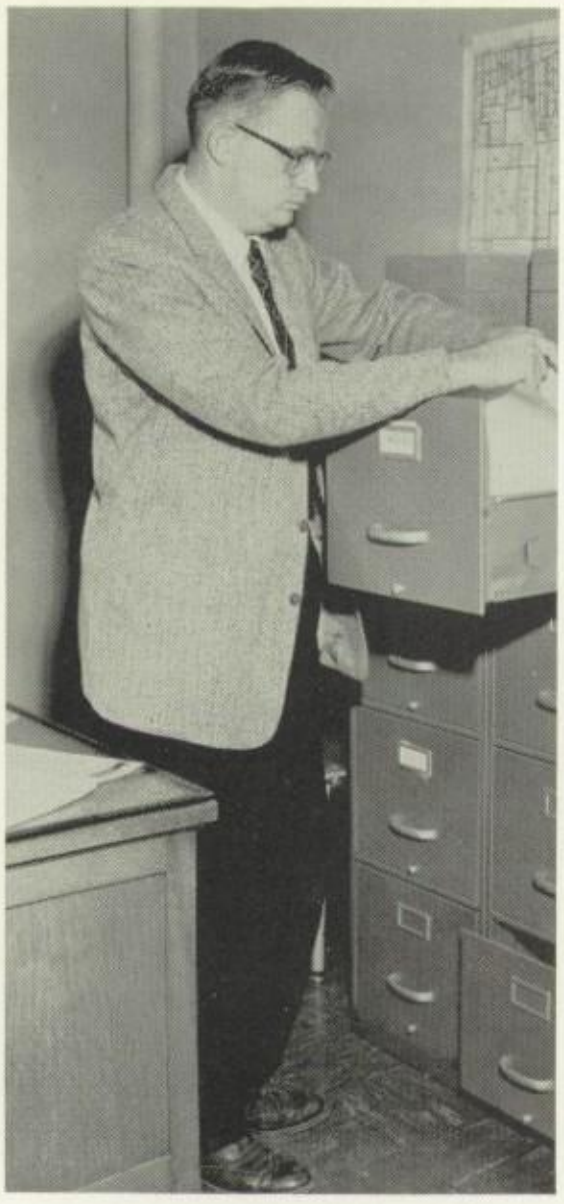
The school law specifies that the Board of Education shall consist of seven board members. The Board functions directly in the establishment of general policies for the operation of the school, such as regulating the number of school days and holidays, engaging new faculty members and approving requisitions for educational supplies. Along with the administrators they aid students by clarifying and enforcing the Student Code of Ethics.

Members of the Board are elected by the people of the community to serve the school district. They are not paid any fee or salary for their responsibilities as board members or for their time spent in directing the operation of the school. It is a truly civic service requiring integrity, honesty and good judgement.

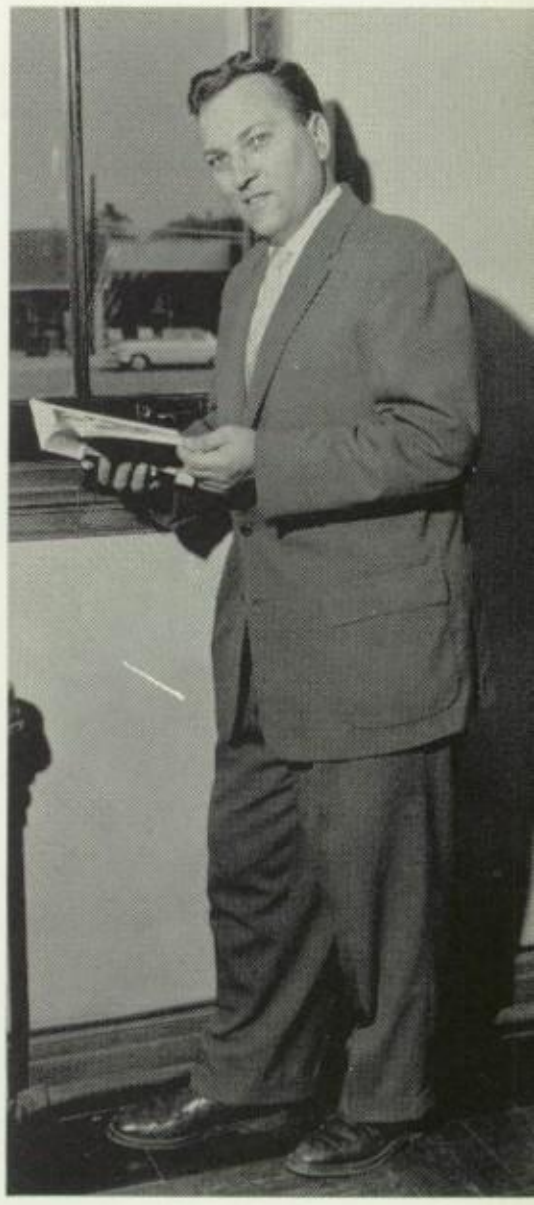
THEY GUIDE AND ADVISE

Proms, dances, socials and homecoming floats are all responsibilities of various class counselors. In addition to making arrangements for these social activities, counselors must register students, arrange schedules and help students and teachers whenever possible. Class boards must work in harmony for the good of the class. Failures must be made up; disciplinary action must be taken when cases are referred by faculty members; all these duties are performed by the counselors.

MR. GEORGE HUNT
Senior Class Counselor



MR. FRANCIS LYNE
Junior Class Counselor



MR. KENNETH WOODMAN
Sophomore Class Counselor

Mr. Leonard Trexler, attendance department head, confers with students and parents about tardiness and irregularities in attendance.

MR. CHARLES KUSENDA
Freshman Class Counselor

Mrs. Joanne McNally, secretary to Mr. Kusenda, prepares the rosters for the athletic department as well as the eligibility lists of all Argo Community High School athletes. She also assembles and types the regular weekly announcements, and arranges for substitute teachers.

EFFICIENT HANDS PERFORM VARIED

Countless duties, which are performed by the members of the office staff, make this group very vital to the efficient functioning of the school. They can be found in the main and attendance offices, busily attending to the needs of the administrators, faculty and students.

Attendance office secretary, Mrs. Wanda Malek, is busy with students all through the day. Her duties include issuing absence slips, making out absence and tardy reports, and preparing the daily absence list. She also has the responsibility of making out honor roll lists and issuing report cards.

Mr. Lewis's right hand girl is Mrs. Lorraine Zografs. Many duties as secretary to Mr. Lewis include the proper disposition of daily correspondence, making out payrolls, board bills, and monthly board agenda.

DUTIES FOR ARGO HIGH

Miss Mary Dalman, Argo High's registrar and bookkeeper, is in charge of the bookstore, handles club and class accounts, does teachers' duplicating, sends transcripts to high schools and colleges and prepares scholastic ratings.

Mrs. Bertha Metz could aptly be called the roving staff member. She cashiers during the lunch periods, does secretarial work for Miss Narloch and Mr. Calvert, and assists Mr. Newman in the library.

TOP ROW: M. Gorman; A. Kaliamanis; M. Batura; B. Brady. BOTTOM ROW: M. Mallis; E. Theurer; H. Pavlik; J. Muros, Manager.

INVALUABLE SERVICES PERFORMED BY SCHOOL STAFFS

The cafeteria staff, under the direction of Mr. John Muros, supplies nourishing lunches. These lunches are prepared in Argo's kitchen and are very economical. If students wish, hot dogs, hamburgers, malts and sundaes are readily available at the snack bar located in the cafeteria.

Clean rooms, fresh laundry, maintenance of grounds and the operation of the heating plant are some of the many services performed by the custodians. The men on this staff work at all hours of the day and night to keep the school in top condition.

MEET MYRTLE!

The girls' matron is in charge of distributing essentials such as towels and tank suits. She also provides students and faculty members with clean wash rooms and locker rooms.

EVENING SCHOOL FACULTY

John Saraceno, Shop Drawing; Morris Marino, Shop Mathematics and Applied Mechanics; Kenneth Soderstrom, Shop Mathematics; Clarence Frederickson, Trade Electricity; Leonard Trexler, Evening School Supervisor.

INDUSTRY PROFITS FROM EVENING SCHOOL TRAINEES

The Argo Community Evening Trade School was organized in 1937 and has continued in operation since that time.

The courses which draw the major portion of enrollments are the trade and industrial courses in related mathematics, shop drawing and applied mechanics for apprentices in the mechanical trades. The adults usually enrolled in these courses are either employed by or desire employment in nearby industries. Other important courses offered are Typing, Shorthand, Industrial Chemistry, Law for the Layman, Sewing and Blue Print reading. Various subjects are added to the curriculum on demand or as the need arises in the community.

SPECIAL SERVICES AVAILABLE TO ALL AT ARGO HIGH

For students who sometimes have special needs, Argo High School maintains special services in three areas: Miss Narloch, in charge of a fully equipped Health office, cares for students' physical health needs, large or small. Tuesdays and Fridays Miss Klimiuk works with students who wish to improve their speech. Mondays and Thursdays Mrs. Jacobs, social worker, sees those students who wish to increase their self understanding and understanding of others. All three special services place emphasis on prevention of serious problems by early treatment.

HOMEMAKERS LEARN MORE THAN HOUSEKEEPING

A large percentage of the girls at Argo High plan to become homemakers in the future.

These girls are taught the skills of cooking and sewing as well as personality development and etiquette. Parties are given by the girls themselves to help them learn the secrets of planning a successful party.

The clothes made in the sewing classes are featured in a style show, at which the incoming Freshman girls are honored.

SHOP PROGRAM PREPARES BOYS FOR TRADE APPRENTICESHIPS

Boys who are interested in entering the industrial fields can find a variety of training areas in the shops. They are designed to give the student a background in metals and machines, woods, printing, mechanical drawing and electricity. Students are counselled so that they may wisely choose their specific vocations. Recent modernizations in this department, and progressive curriculum planning contribute greatly to properly preparing boys for the trades.

KNOWLEDGE OF ENGLISH — TOOL FOR EVERYTHING ELSE

One of the chief aims of the English department is to encourage the student to think and to think clearly. A thinking student learns quickly to select a better word, to write a better sentence and to give a better talk.

Literature classes become better acquainted with the best that has been written. By reading widely, a person gains a better understanding of his own life.

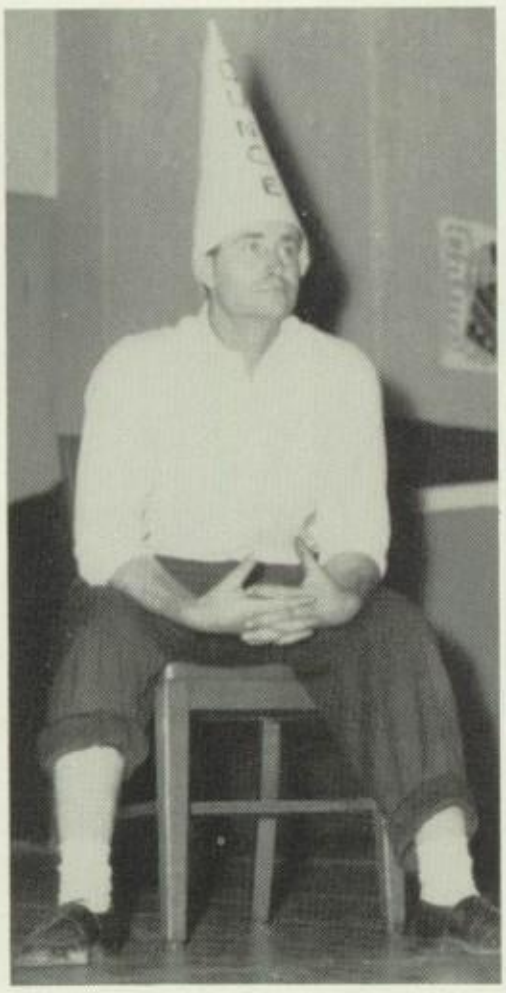
OUT OF THE CLASSROOM FACULTY MEMBERS

We never knew that we had so many cut-ups in our faculty. The skit they put on during the citizenship assembly had us howling for days.

LEFT: Among her many accomplishments, Miss Nina Klimiuk, Speech Correctionist, turns a neat hem.



Mr. Haake is sent to the dunce's corner during the faculty skit. Now that's a new twist!

Grit your teeth and hang on! It's Mr. Kleffman and his own personal barber, wife Betty, suffering together—all that for money!

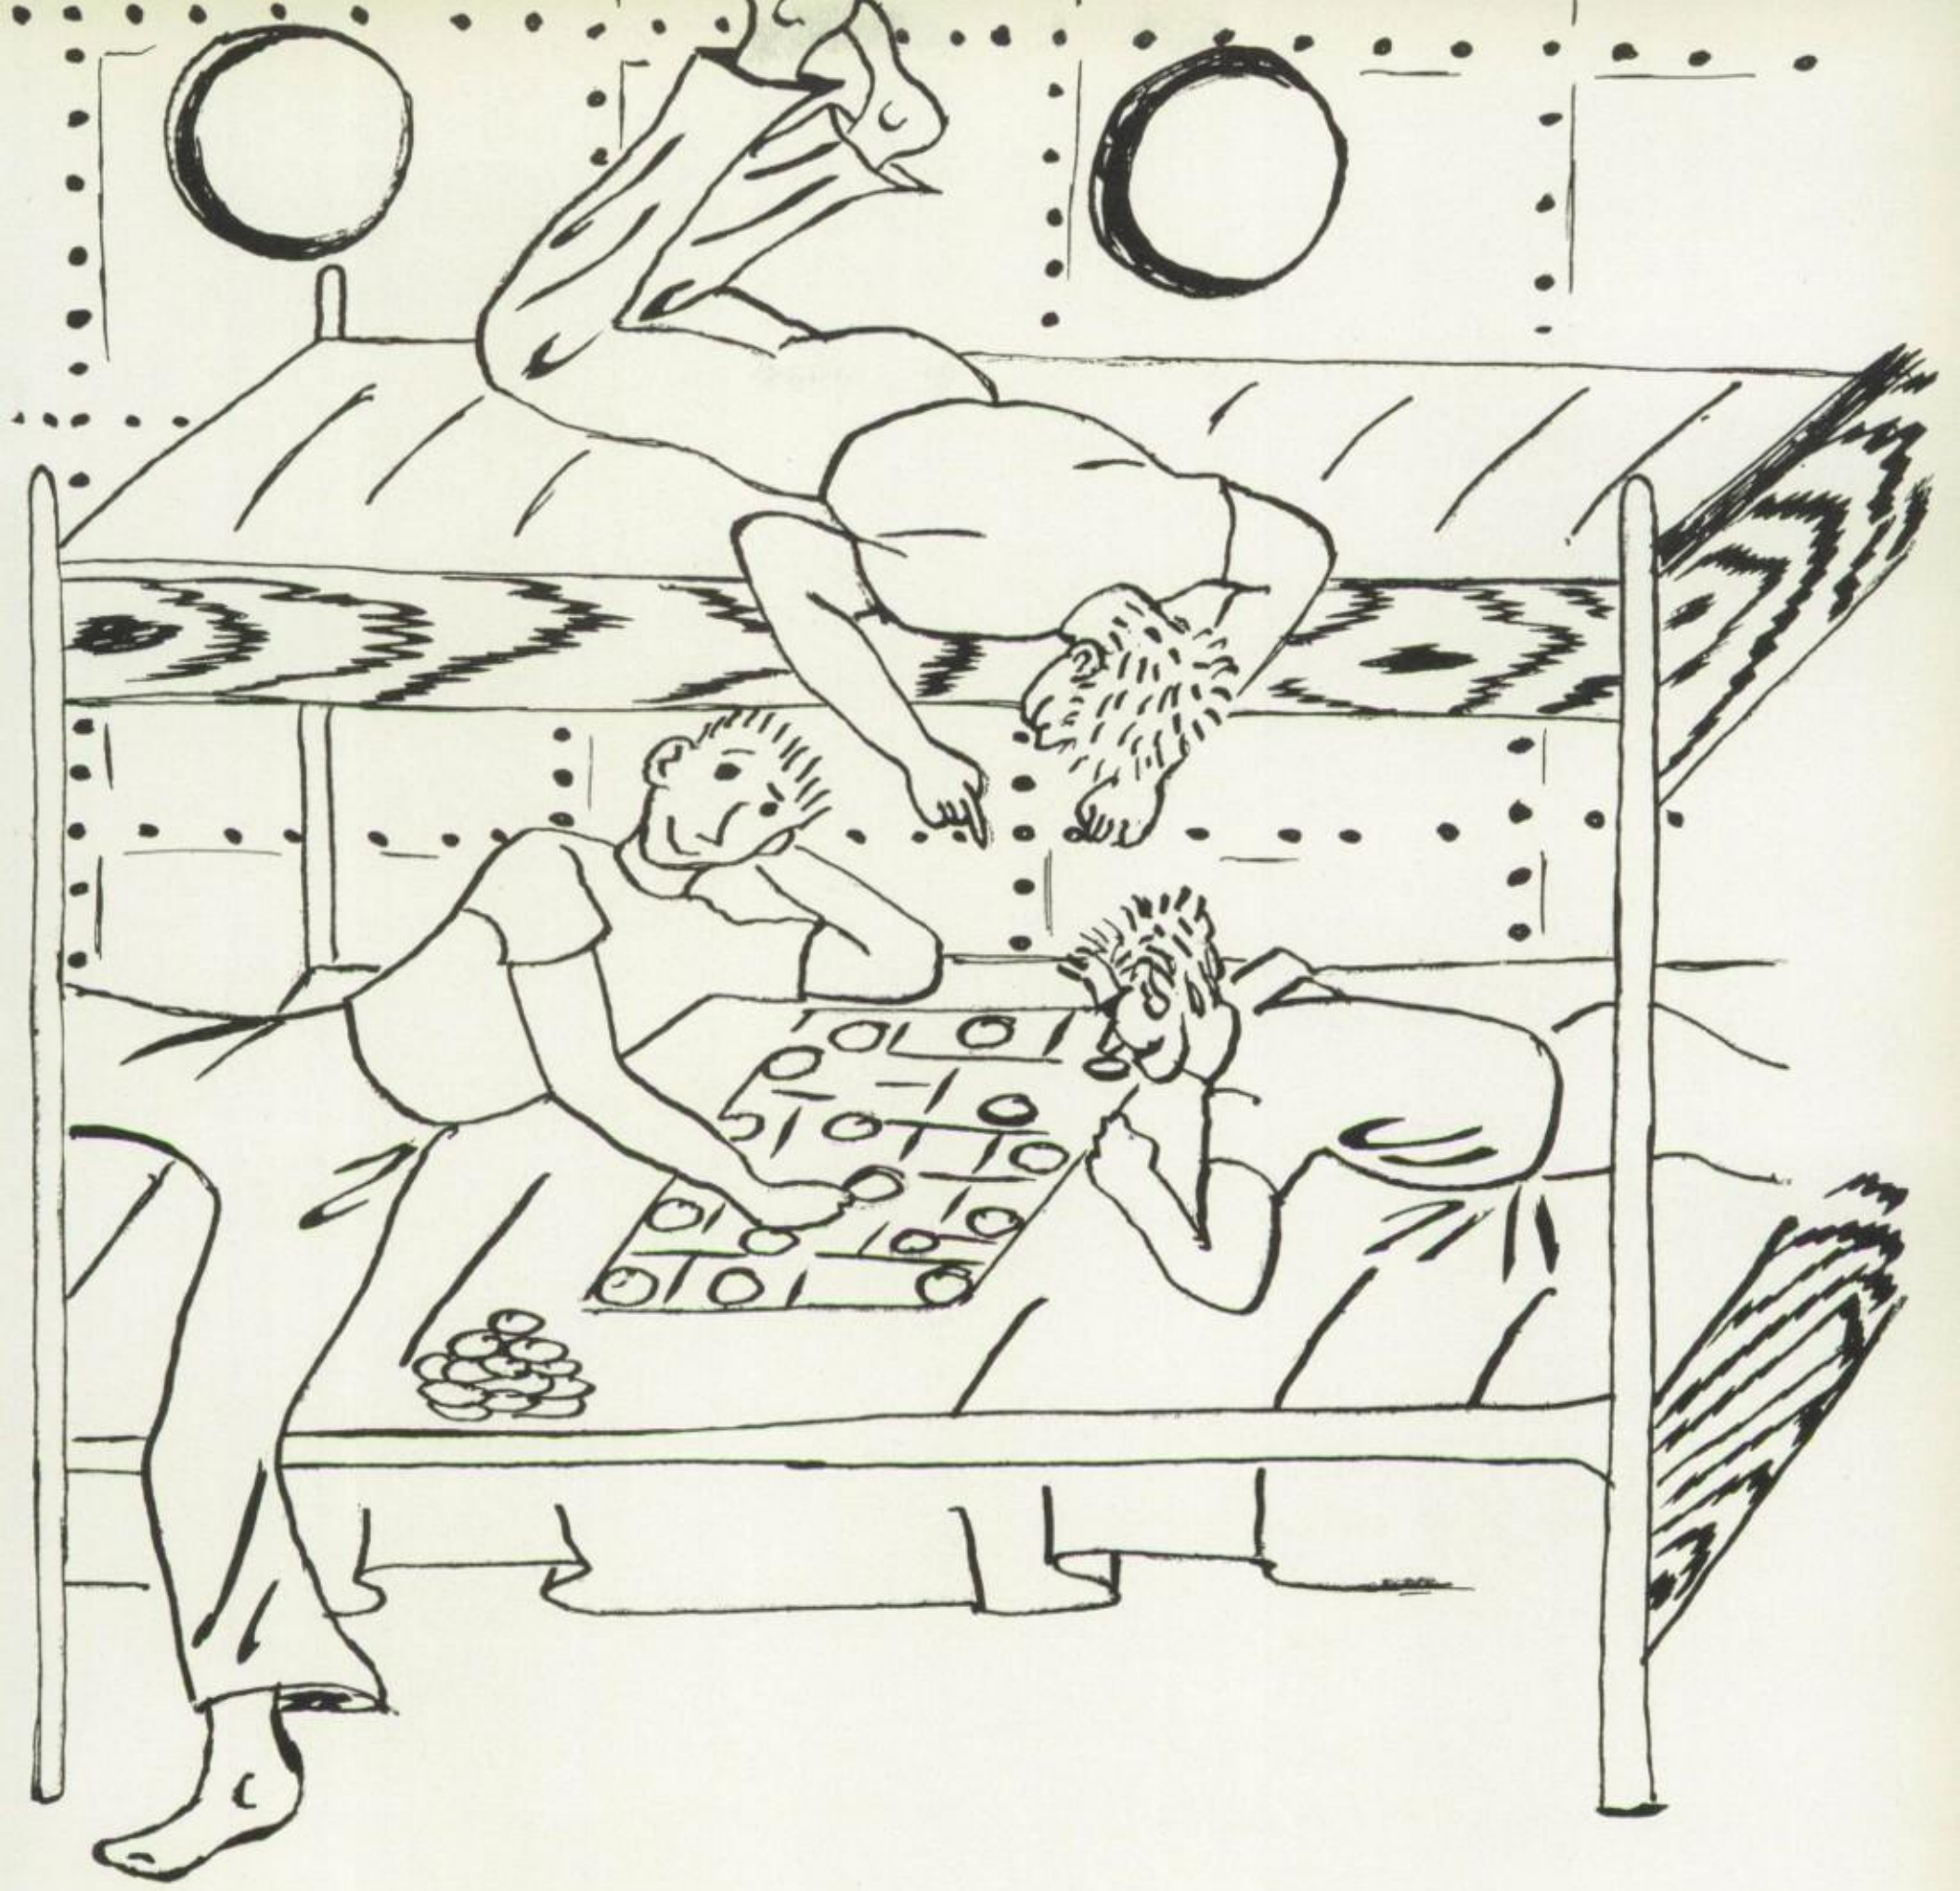
FROLIC, ENJOY HOBBIES, WORK AROUND THE HOUSE

Washing dishes is a family affair at the McKenzies. Kathy and Allen help mom, who is Mrs. Evelyn McKenzie of the English Department.

Off duty! What a relief! A few hours of relaxation. Clowning around in the bunks, an absorbing game of checkers, a fast game of pool in the recreation area, and practice for the honor drill team fill the precious off duty hours of Navy man "Argi."

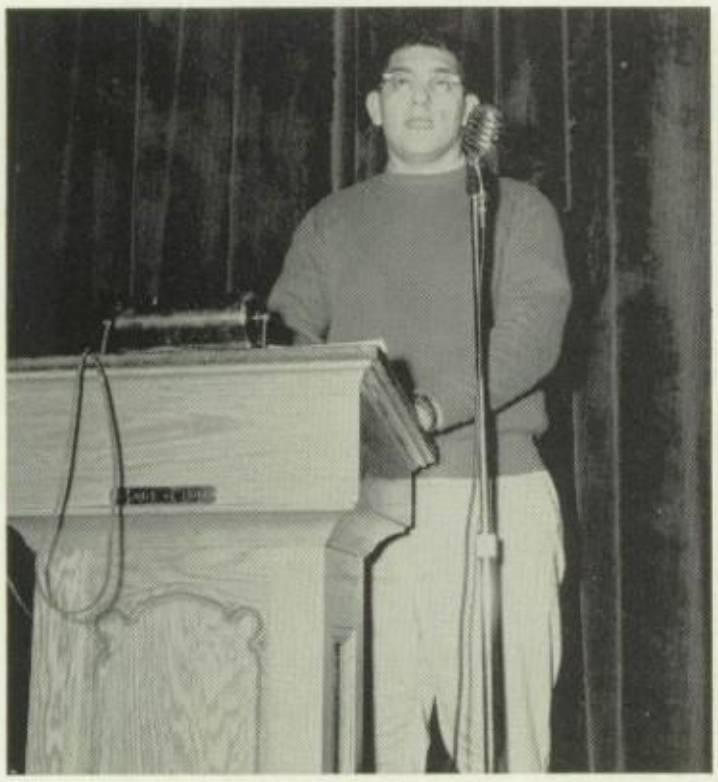
In high school the extracurricular clubs and organizations occupy the free hours of every student's school day—and then some. "Argi" recalls how Argo had a variety of clubs and organizations to meet the needs and interests of every individual, and to help each derive the most out of their extra time.

Checkers, pool, or an honor drill team are a far cry from the Student Activity Board, the orchestra, or the Latin Club. Yet, these have the same meaning, whether it be the Navy version of off duty or the extracurricular activities at Argo. They promote a better understanding and a richer feeling of belonging.



Off-Duty

PARADES, ASSEMBLIES, SCHOOL SPIRIT PROMOTED BY S.A.B.



John Santora, S.A.B. President, opens up Citizenship Assembly.

S.A.B. stands for the Student Activity Board. This group, consisting of students from each class, is elected each spring by the classes to represent their interests in student government.

Its purpose is to promote interest in school activities and to set a good example for the entire student body.

A few of the projects headed by the S.A.B. this year were The Homecoming Parade and Assembly, the Citizenship Assembly and the Talent Show. They also lead drives for contributions to "Care" and "Gifts for the Yanks."

This very active group meets every Wednesday morning with its new sponsor, Mr. Manwaring.

"A" REPRESENTS ARGO ATHLETES

Athletes are made, not born. The coveted letter "A" is earned by the boys who have the initiative and will-power to achieve perfection in the sports they undertake. Membership in the "'A" Club is sought by every boy that goes out for sports. By winning a major letter in football, basketball, swimming, track, and baseball, an athlete is admitted after a mild initiation at the annual "A" Club steak fry held every spring. Besides the steak-fry the "A" Club holds other gatherings like "Gym Night" in which the members have use of the gym for basketball, ping pong, and weight lifting. The boys also take a dip in the pool before calling it a night.

Friday night, game time, and "A" Club ushers Lester Jones, Jerry Clinnin, Larry Frus and Joe Herman point out an empty seat to Bobby Williams.

One of the greatest honors a student can achieve while in high school is to be elected to the National Honor Society. In order to be considered for this honor, a senior must have a semester "B" average from his freshman year through the first semester of his senior year. Faculty members and seniors vote on the basis of three qualities—leadership, character, and service. Those elected are awarded a pin during a candlelighting ceremony in the presence of the student body.

Mr. Lewis discusses future plans with D.A.R. Award Winner, Aggie Tomich, and candidates, Eldra Moore and Judy Solomon.

ARGONAUTS DISPLAY SCHOLARSHIP, LEADERSHIP, SERVICE

The Daughters of the American Revolution Citizenship award is given annually to a senior girl who best excels in the following qualities: honor, service, courage, leadership, and patriotism to her school and her country. To be elected for this honor she must first be nominated by the members of her class. From the top three candidates nominated, the faculty makes the final selection of the girl they feel best fulfills the above qualities.

Students and parents assembled on St. Valentines night to witness the presentation of Keen Teen Awards, view an original skit entitled "A Look Into Loveland" and dance afterwards in the gaily decorated gym. In addition to this yearly event, Quill and Scroll, national journalistic fraternity, sponsors an initiation ceremony and banquet. Members of this select group must have written one hundred inches of printed material or worked thirty hours on the Argolite, and have contributed in an outstanding manner to one of the publications.

THEY KEEP US ABREAST OF THE NEWS

The combined efforts of an experienced staff, a new advisor, improved facilities and a host of imaginative reporters, who contribute their ideas, all present themselves in the form of our school newspaper, The Maroon.

This publication, which comes out every other week, is designed to entertain and inform the student body.

During the past year, the Maroon has participated in several assemblies, sponsored various art and writing contests, and in conjunction with the Quill and Scroll, taken charge of the Saint Valentine's Keen Teen Hop.

Most of the Maroon staff is enrolled in Journalism where the mechanics and techniques of producing a school newspaper are taught by Mr. Baker.

'59 ARGOLITE STAFF PRODUCES BIGGEST ANNUAL EVER!

The hub of activity for the Argolite staffs is Room 33, during the fourth period. Here the editors and sponsor plan the yearbook, work out production schedules, set up picture dates and work out assignments for each editor to relay to his staff.

Picture, art, literary, sales and typing are the main divisions of the Argolite. These staffs work individually but are responsible to one another, and depend upon each other to function properly. In between meeting deadlines, the members of this organization found time to sponsor a Homecoming Dance, sell Homecoming pamphlets and enjoy a Christmas party and Spring picnic.

SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY FASCINATE ARGONAUTS AS THEY

Argo has its Marconis! A regulation transmitter was built as a Radio Club project and several members were trained in Morse Code.

The site of a very interesting field trip was the Lemont Nike Base. Air Force men conducted the group through the installations and lectured to them about the importance of trained technicians in the missile field.

The Audio Visual Club is composed of students who are trained to operate movie projectors, tape recorders and other related machines. The members meet once a week to discuss the weeks' movies, set up programs, and order movies and tapes. At the end of the year, they meet for the last time at the club picnic.

INVESTIGATE ELECTRICITY, PROJECTORS, AND CAMERAS

The shutterbugs of the Camera Club maintain a constant flow of pictures to the Maroon, Argolite, and local publications. Beside this, the camera club members take great pride in their student display case, which shows photographs of Argonauts in action.

Topics studied at weekly meetings are fundamental processing, color photography, micro-photography, Christmas Card making, portraits, and copying prints.

HOPEFUL ACTORS AND SCIENTISTS GAIN

Science Club members have buckled down to work with the help of their new sponsor, Mr. Strnad. Some members completed projects which were entered in the Illinois Junior Academy of Science competition. The annual Christmas party was a huge success. A lot of fun was had all year, but the ideals of the Club to stimulate an interest in the Sciences, were thought of first.

Amateur actors and actresses were given their "big chance" by the Drama Club. The Club presented several skits and plays this year in which these aspiring newcomers took part. The Christmas Play "The Miracle of the Madonna," was the biggest production put on by the Drama Club this year. During the year members enjoyed professional ballet and opera performances.

CLUBS' CALENDARS FEATURE MEXICAN RESTAURANTS AND NATIONAL CONVENTION

The gay customs and activities of the Spanish world are enjoyed by Spanish Club enthusiasts who bring Spain to Argo at their weekly meetings. A yearly excursion to the Mexico Lindo, a loop restaurant, is a treat for members who are fascinated by the quaint atmosphere, the spicy foods, such as, tortillas, and fryoles, and the exciting Spanish music.

The purpose of the Modern Music Masters, an honor society of musically talented students, is to develop musicianship, to foster good music, and to develop the music standards of the school and community. Attending district, state, and national conventions, and participating in instrumental and vocal concerts are some of the club's projects.

CLUB MEMBERS WORK AND DREAM FOR

"A powerful, hard-working organization" were the words used to describe the Future Nurses Club by Doctor Gibson, a speaker at the assembly sponsored by this group. Besides sponsoring the assembly, the Future Nurses entered the Homecoming parade, held a fine Christmas party, visited one of the Chicago hospitals, and held a "pinning" ceremony.

Early in May the Future Teachers Club of Argo High conducted the classes of several grade school teachers in the Argo area. Other activities of the active group included a Christmas party featuring a white elephant grab bag and a visit from Santa, and a comedy skit written by several future teachers and enacted by teachers.

POST-GRADUATE LIFE AND CAREERS

The Future Craftsmen are a small but active group which according to Mr. Woodman, the sponsor, "Explore the Crafts and Trades, and develop interest in advocational activities." Members meet on Wednesday after school to perfect their projects which include lamps, endtables, gun racks, and bookcases.

The Future Homemakers of America have embarked on a three point plan of activity. It is one: to earn money by sponsoring a school-wide sale of candy in reusable cannisters; two: to learn so that members may be eligible for various degrees; three: to entertain by giving several parties plus the annual Parents Night Dinner and by introducing entertainment into weekly meetings.

AIDES DEVELOP SKILLS, LEARN RESPONSIBILITY,

Girls interested in office work of all kinds act as aides to the office staff. They deliver telephone messages, collect absence slips, answer the phone, take special bulletins to the classrooms and perform many other interesting duties. A "C" average is required of all office aides.

Nurses Aides render vital services to their fellow classmates. These girls, who volunteer their services, are responsible for a great number of jobs. They keep records of the students who come into the health office, take care of the laundry, answer the phone and sterilize first aid equipment.

HELP OTHERS

Before school and during lunch periods, hall guards are posted in strategic areas throughout the building to keep the halls quiet and to see that only students with passes are in the halls. These boys, who are selected by the office, are also on duty during fire drills.

Library aides are recruited every year to help the librarian process, repair and check out library materials. Each period of the day they can be found working at the shelves, in the career room, at the loan desk, and in the librarian's office.

FOR EVERY SPORT"

The Girls' Athletic Association plans a year-round schedule which includes swimming, softball, soccer, basketball, volleyball, badminton and ping pong. The girls earn points by participating in these sports after school hours. Points are totaled at the end of the school year and at the spring picnic and initiation, letters are awarded to the girls who have earned sufficient points. The two girls with the highest total points are sent as representatives of the school to the G.A.A. camp in Wisconsin.

CHOIR SCORES AT BUILDING DEDICATION

Proclaimed as having sounded better than professionals at the Borg Warner Building Dedication, the Argo High School Choir numbered its performance there as one of the most eventful of the year. During the yuletide season the choir carolled in the halls and sang over the La Grange radio station, besides presenting their annual Christmas Vesper at the High School. The Choir also performed for the Lyons Club and for various school assemblies. The group, under the direction of Mr. Arthur Seith, is divided into several special divisions. Among these are the Boys' Glee Club, Girls' Glee Club and the Mixed Octet.

Choir members Richard Sever, Don Smit, Carol Sutton and Flora Nigg, don robes for Choir performance.

MUSIC OF THE MASTERS FOR SPECIAL OCCASIONS

Curtains lower and violins cease playing as Argo's orchestra successfully completes another musical. The group includes in its repertoire classical and semic-classical music, as well as, orchestral arrangements of popular music.

These talented people practice most of the fall and early winter for the Thanksgiving and Christmas programs. In spring the annual concert and commencement exercises complete a busy year for the orchestra members.

Versatile, soloist Phyllis Frus performed at several concerts during the past year.

VERSATILE BAND PERFORMS THROUGHOUT THE YEAR

Clad in their snappy maroon and white marching uniforms, band members added color and spirit to football half-time programs by executing formations and original routines to their peppy music. Suiting the music to the solemn and dignified occasions, Thanksgiving and Christmas, the band performed for the annual vesper programs and other community affairs.

Music with the popular light beat was featured at the Bands' Pop Concert. Soloists are always of major importance in any band, and Argo's soloists and ensembles won many places at the music contests at Crete Monee, Revis, York High School, Bradley University and Illinois State University.

Band Director, Mr. Victor Kase and assistant director Richard Weeks, who took charge of the band during Mr. Kase's illness.

ARGONAUTS PREPARE FOR COLLEGE AND THE BUSINESS WORLD

Argo's newest extracurricular activity, the Business Club, is chartered in the National organization, the Future Business Leaders of America. To be a chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America the group had to undertake a project—they chose to be of service to the teachers, administrators, and clubs of the school by doing stenographical and clerical work for them.

The Cram Club was formed specifically to help students who plan to take college entrance examinations and other related tests. The usual discussions are centered around what are the requirements for college, what are the various aspects of college life, and how to study for entrance exams.

Argo debaters, Barbara Warzynski, and Farrell An Madoni, present their side of the question as Mt. Assisi debaters patiently wait their turn.

DEBATERS DOWN MT. ASSISI, RICH AND LEMONT HIGH SCHOOLS

"Lus et Veritos per Herba," which means "light and truth through words," is the motto of the Argo Community High School Debate Society. The Society, which is two years old this year, has won a majority of its meets which includes debates with Mt. Assisi, Rich Township, and Lemont. They debated on the national high school topic, "Is Russian education more beneficial than American's." A Laureate Award Banquet ends the school year for the Debaters.

"Some wise character is always pulling his rank on me. Just because he's got a few hash marks on his sleeve and has chalked up a few years in the Navy, he thinks he can tell me what to do," says a disgruntled "Argi" as he performs a few menial duties that go with the splendor of being a seaman in the Navy.

As the sweat pours off his brow "Argi" mellows and thinks, "Yeah, it's a tough life! Come to think of it, it isn't so different from my freshman, sophomore and junior years at Argo High."

"Those years were the best, but they were trying years. How many times did I want to quit? The only thing that curtailed that urge was the sight of that diploma in my hand at commencement."

"I wasn't a quitter in high school and I won't be one in the Navy. I'll keep on trying and I'll make it!" concludes "Argi."

FRESHIES BREEZE THROUGH '58-'59

The Freshmen entering in September were represented by their grade school principals to act as SAB members and class officers for the first semester. A lawnmower with the slogan "Let's Mow 'Em Down" was their entry in the Homecoming Parade. It seemed as if school had just started when second semester arrived. After getting acquainted with each other, the Freshmen held their election for SAB members and class officers. Now after attending the underclassman dance among others and having three class members as nominees for Keen Teen Awards, they anxiously await their next year at Argo.

Nancy Blazejak crosses off Lolita Kuglarz's name while Phyllis Frus guards the ballot box.

THE CLASS OF 1961 IS GOING PLACES!

Tanna leaves, witches brew, and a special guest, "Lucifer himself" were found at the climax of the Sophomore's projects, an underclassman dance. The dance which was held on Friday, March 13 was entitled "Devils Drag."

During the fall season, the Sophomores didn't sit back. They built a rocket ship with theme "Argo's Going Places" for the Homecoming Parade and instead of capturing outer space, they won second place. Midwinter was the time for raising funds for class expenses. A bake sale was held at Dineff's Realty for this purpose.

The Sophomores eagerly supported their outstanding basketball team which distinguished themselves by placing third in the South Suburban Conference.

Sophomores believe in advertising their big dance—The Devils Drag.

While other Sophomores are wide awake through the monotony of flower making Bob Guzlas is slowly fading.

With boys like Tony Kensik and Sparky Pyrz on the basketball team, it's no wonder the Sophomores screamed their lungs out.

JUNIORS PREPARE FOR THAT BIG YEAR — '60

The Junior Class's homecoming float, carrying the theme, "Expecting Victory," was richly rewarded when it was announced as the winning float Homecoming night. Money making was next on the agenda for the lower upperclassmen. "Gobbler's Gadabout" was the theme of an all school sock hop.

As the New Year arrived, the Juniors made their selections for graduation rings. Dineff's Realty was the site of a Bake Sale, proceeds went to the Junior-Senior Prom fund.

The rainy month of April was the setting for a display of acting ability in the Junior Play, "You Can't Take It With You." Last minute details for the Prom were worked out. As the Junior-Senior Prom, which was held on May 2, at the Shoreland Hotel, closed the year for the Juniors, they anxiously waited for September to come so they could finally enroll as "Tops of A.C.H.S."—the Senior Class of 1960.

Juniors Gail Dever and Pat Erklin assisted by Mrs. Taylor pick out their favorite class rings.

Diaper clad Juniors jubilantly accept first place Homecoming trophy from Queen, Aggie Tomich, and S.A.B. President, John Santora.

Junior Class members decide that "You Can't Take It With You" will be the play for '59.

"Practice and more practice! Calisthenics and more calisthenics! Does this ever end?" asks weary "Argi" as he drags himself to the locker room after a strenuous day out on the field.

Practice brings back memories of participating in the sports that were offered at Argo. "We had several teams at Argo and they weren't always winning teams either. Even though we didn't always win we managed to give the crowd a good show and maintain a clean record against the competition that confronted us. This wasn't always an easy thing to do," "Argi" proudly remarks to himself.

"Many a time I was disgusted when the coach began to nag or I wasn't doing things right; but I like sports and they offered a challenge. This challenge can really be climaxed with the super feeling that everyone possesses when a game is won and you know that you played a part in helping to win that game."

HERBERT C. SWANSON

COMMUNITY HONORS HERBERT SWANSON — NEW GYM NAMED

The Board of Education and the people of the community feel that Herbert C. Swanson should be honored for his long time devotion to the school and have proclaimed: "The new gym at Argo Community High School shall be known as the Herbert C. Swanson Gym." During Mr. Swanson's thirty years of service on the school board, many of these as president, he was a vital and inspirational participant in all educational endeavors at the high school level.

Mr. Swanson saw ACHS expand from a single structure to a large, well-planned building, housing educational facilities second to none. Under Mr. Swanson's kindly and continued encouragement, the curriculum was many time enriched. Other evidences of his leadership are a super-lighted gridiron and the new gym, one of the finest in the state of Illinois.

In the story of Argo High, Herbert C. Swanson has the respect and the admiration of all constituents.

HULA HOOPS, STUNTS, NEW CHEERS DISPLAY VARSITY PEP

Cheers to spark school spirit at football and basketball games are led by the six varsity cheerleaders. These active gals meet every Tuesday and Thursday after school to work on new cheers and revise old ones.

A passing scholastic average must be maintained to remain on the squad each six weeks. If a cheerleader is absent from a game or practice without a reasonable excuse, one of the substitutes takes over for four games.

FROSH-SOPHS KEEP SPIRITS HIGH

"We gotta win, we gotta win, let's go!" This is one of the chants you'll often hear led by the Frosh-Soph cheerleaders. Victory or defeat, it is the responsibility of these girls to uphold Argo's spirit and sportsmanship.

Tryouts which take place during the end of May are important to all those interested in cheerleading. The sponsor, Miss Nancy Upsall, and the senior cheerleaders are the judges. During the final tryout each girl is judged on the cartwheel, the splits, a combination cartwheel and split, one single cheer, and one group cheer. Those performing the best are chosen as the cheerleaders for the coming year.

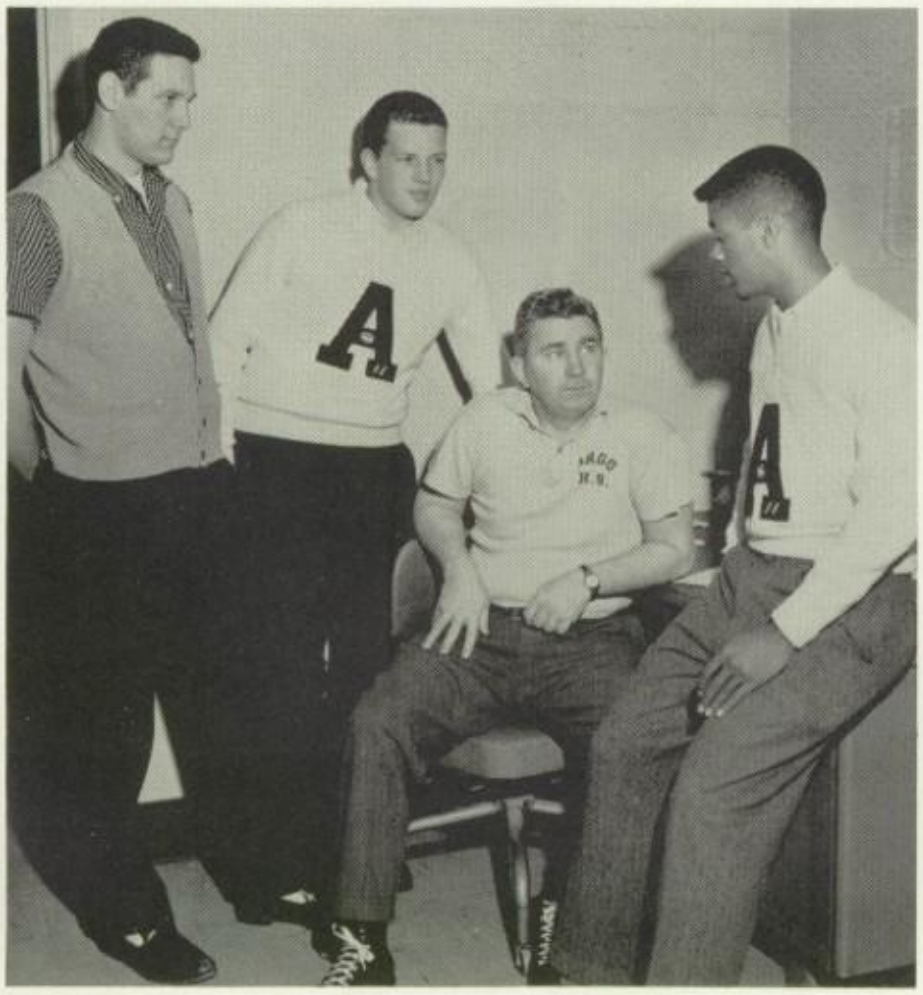
WILLIAMS, MURRAY AND DINEFF NAMED LEAGUE ALL-STARS



Coach Galvin discusses play for Friday's game with Louie Dineff, Bill Murray, and Bob Williams, who are All-Conference selecties.

A swift backfield paced by Bob Williams and Pete Klos, along with the passing combination of Don Harvey and Lester Jones, added spark to the 'Naut eleven throughout the season. An experienced line led by All-Conference choice Bill Murray, supplied the Argonauts with enough protection to execute their plays successfully.

The 'Nauts opened the season with a bang by trouncing rival Reavis 25 to 0 and later turned to the role of "spoilers" when they invaded Kankakee and smashed the host team 26 to 7, to give the Kays a gloomy Homecoming. The Argo eleven stretched their victory string to 11 against 4 losses in the number of games played between the two schools.

Argo almost staged the upset of the year when they played defending champion Bloom on even terms for three quarters before succumbing in the final minutes by a 20-13 score. Homecoming again found the team locked in a close battle with Leyden before losing by a respectable 7-0 score.

Concluding the season with a victory over Lockport on Williams' 85 and 70 yard T.D. runs, the Argonauts gained a tie for fifth place in the South Suburban League.

Besides Murray, other 'Nauts who were elected to the All-Conference team were juniors Louis Dineff and Bob Williams.

Inexperience slowed Argo's bid for a championship team. When these boys were freshmen the frosh team had been discontinued, thus making 1958 the first year of competitive football for the sophomores.

Argo played championship ball in routing Proviso and Lockport. The sophs rallied late in the Reavis and Thornton Fractional games only to be edged both times by the margin of the extra point.

Kankakee ended Argo's bid for the "spoiler" role at the Kay's homecoming by scoring the only touchdown of the game in the last two minutes of play.

With their show of progress in their first season of competitive football, the sophs have the determination and ability to look forward to a successful year with the Varsity.

Fundamentals and teamwork were stressed during the past season for the frosh football team.

It was a green team but the boys showed steady improvement as the season progressed. The frosh tasted victory and defeat when they downed Blue Island 6-0 to avenge an earlier 14-0 loss to the Cardinals. The mighty Thornton Wildcats humbled our stalwarts 32-0, but two games later Argo drew a tie with the Eagles from Leyden.

Quarterback Bumbulis paced the offensive maneuvering while Ghess, Rygula and Casillo sparkled on the defensive unit. Lofton, Peterson, Jones and Hollingsworth displayed good overall performance.

BRIGHT FINISH — VARSITY UPSETS LAGRANGE IN REGIONAL

Lack of height hindered the Varsity during the 1958-59 season. The boys registered only one conference victory and a total of five wins for the season.

Playing against the giants from Bloom and Thornton was a terrific task for the 'Nauts since Argo's tallest man was 6'3" as compared with opponents up to 6'8". Nevertheless the Argonauts fought hard before losing 64-55 and 69-54 respectively.

Argo fans were heartbroken when Lockport managed to win 51-47 after relinquishing a big lead. Leyden edged the varsity 46-44, Fractional handed the 'Nauts two defeats by 4 and 9 point margins.

The season had bright spots also when Harvey scored the winning baskets in the Oak Lawn and Blue Island games. The 'Nauts gained revenge by downing Bremen 48-46 on Clark's winning basket. Evergreen Park's Mustangs fell to 'Nauts by a 77-52 score.

Argo went into the Downers Grove Regional with a 4-17 record. The 'Nauts drew Lyons Township in the opening game, a school which Argo had failed to defeat in five years. Paced by Louis Dineff, Argo advanced to the semi-final games with a 38-34 upset victory. Morton proved to be too much to handle when the Mustangs eliminated Argo from the tournament by a 62-44 score.

Bob Williams was fourth in conference scoring while Harvey and Parker were the other high scorers for Argo.

SOPHS FINISH THIRD HOPKINS LEADS SCORING

The 'Nauts finished third behind Thornton and Bloom to close a successful season with a 9-5 conference record. Coach Lyne's Frosh-Soph were title contenders until the final week of conference play. Highlights of the season were the 47-45 victory over mighty Thornton Township which gave the 'Nauts a tie for first place at the end of the first round of play in the South Suburban League. William Hopkins went on a hot scoring spree when he racked up 26 points in the Thornton game, 28 in the Fractional game and 21 points against Kankakee. Bloom gained revenge after Argo stopped the Trojans 39-38, by edging the 'Nauts 41-40 at Bloom to drop Argo out of first place. Thornton was forced to go into overtime before it managed to defeat the 'Nauts 45-43 at Thornton. The victory gave the Wildcats the championship since Argo was the only team remaining in contention for the title. Argo was the only team which defeated Thornton. The Wildcats posted a 13-1 record. Argo hit a losing streak in the second round to wind up with a 9-5 record.

FROSH SHOW STRENGTH IN LATE SEASON DRIVE

Time ran out for Argo's Frosh cage team as the Argonauts steadily improved to win five of their last nine games and post a 6-12 record for the season. Coach Kleffman's players showed a great desire to win throughout the season, but finished strong by late wins over Oak Lawn and Leyden after losing to these two schools earlier in the season. Thornton outscored the Argonauts 42 to 8 in the first meeting between the two schools but the Wildcats had to stage a rally to defeat the Argo five by a 45-36 score.

As the season progressed, Ghess became a ball hawk and paced the team in scoring, Jones excelled on the pivot, and Wright directed the floor play as Tisevich, topped the team in outside shooting. Rehr and Stromsky improved greatly to round out this spirited ball club.

RECORD BREAKING VARSITY SWIMMERS FINISH IN THIRD PLACE

For the first time, the Argonaut varsity placed third in the conference meet beaten only by Thornton and Bloom, the best showing of any Argo swimming team in history. There were many outstanding individual performances as the team did well in the dual competition as well as the conference meet. Frank Roper, varsity diver, was undefeated throughout the season and set a new conference record in diving as he took first place at the conference meet. Paul Bryant also bettered the old record as he took second, to sweep the diving event for Argo. Contributing greatly to Argo's successful season were the performances of Nenad Dedich and Dick Ruckauf who swam breast stroke for the 1959 team. Nenad, a junior, and Dick placed second and fourth respectively in the conference meet.

No record could be complete without mentioning Bob Smit and Jim Porter. Bob, swimming both the 100 yard butterfly and the individual medley was point man for the varsity squad with 63 points. Consistently taking first in the dual meets, Jim Porter placed third in the conference. After a tremendous record-breaking '59 season, the varsity is looking forward to next year with even greater hopes under the leadership of Coach Narcy.

GEWERTH STROKES FROSH-SOPHS TO THIRD PLACE

Intense competition not only in the South Suburban League, but within the team itself, helped to pull the somewhat larger than usual Frosh-Soph Swim team into third place in the conference.

Working hard to improve their individual times, many Argonaut finmen were standout performers during the season. John Gewerth, swimming the 50 and 100 yard free style took two first place ratings and qualified for varsity competition, quite a feat for John, who is swimming for the first time this year. Gewerth was the only sophomore representative from Argo in the state meet.

Jim Vonesh and Gerald Smit were consistent winners for the 'Naut team. Swimming in two events apiece, the boys managed several times to capture two firsts individually per meet. Jim tallied 70 points in dual meet competition while placing fourth in the conference meet in the breast-stroke division. Gerry was the third best backstroker in the League and scored 54 points in dual meets. He was also a member of the Medley Relay team which placed fourth in the conference meet. Divers, Ron Pusko and Tom Montecki won second and third places in the Conference Meet.

FRUS CAPTURES RIBBONS FOR UNDERMANNED TRACK SQUAD

Although the Argonaut Varsity team's overall season record wasn't spectacular, the true fighting spirit of the cindermen prevailed throughout the season when the 14 man squad had to compete with teams twice as large. The fighting spirit paid off for the 'Nauts at the Evergreen Park Quadrangular Meet when the team placed third, and at the South Suburban Conference Meet where the 'Nauts won ribbons in three events.

Larry Frus won a third place ribbon by running the 880 yard race in a time of 2:02.9. Frus also won a third place medal at the I.H.S.A. District Meet held at Riverside-Brookfield. Jim Sendziak placed third in the Varsity Discus event by flinging the "saucer" 128'11½". The mile Relay team of Pappas, Parker, LeGrand and Frus won fifth place ribbons by running the 4-lap event in 3:41.7. The Argonaut team also fared well during the season by winning first place six times.

WILLIAMS AND DEBOER CAPTURE CONFERENCE TITLES

Argo's pride in the Frosh-Soph track team of 1958 can be verified by the fine record the trackmen posted in all six of their dual meets, winning a triangular meet, finishing second and third in quadrangular meets, and concluding a successful season by placing third at the South Suburban League meet held at Blue Island. Robert Williams and Ed DeBoer were top contenders at the Conference meet capturing first place in three events. Williams proved to be a speedster as he blazed along the track in 10.4 seconds to win the 100 yard dash and captured the 220 yard dash with a time of 23.2 seconds. DeBoer defied gravity as he cleared 5'6" in the high jump event to win a first place ribbon. Another top contender was Troy Garron who leaped 19'6" for a second place finish in the broad jump. The Argonauts managed to win 9 ribbons at the Conference Meet, indicating that Argo can look forward to fine track teams in the years to come.

SLUGGER JOVANOVICH PACES HOT AND COLD VARSITY

Argo's diamond fortunes took a turn for the better as the season progressed. The victory pennant was on the good ship Argo's mast after its first game in the I.H.S.A. District Tournament. The 'Naut nine avenged an earlier 6-0 loss to Riverside-Brookfield by turning the tide in the last inning on Don Harvey's two-run homer for a 6-4 victory. A strong Morton squad eliminated Argo in the next round by coming from behind to erase Argo's four run lead and win the game 7-4.

Argo had some long-ball hitters in Harvey and Rich Jovanovich. Rich led the team in batting and also clouted a grand slam homer against Lockport to pace the 'Nauts to an 8-3 victory.

With some good prospects coming up from the Frosh-Sophs, especially in the pitching department, the outlook for 1959 is promising.

SWITALSKI AND CURLEE'S PITCHING SPARKS SOPHS

Several brilliant pitching performances highlighted an otherwise uneventful Frosh-Soph baseball season. Jim Curlee's masterful no-hitter spurred Argo on to a 10-0 battering of Kankakee. In the following game against the mighty Bloom Trojans Argo's bats again asserted themselves, pounding across 13 runs while Wally Switalski whitewashed Bloom on 3 scattered hits. In the final game of the season Switalski again came up with a superb hurling job, holding Blue Island hitters to only one single en route to a 4-1 victory.

These three victories were offset by four losses in conference competition, which, added to early season defeats by non-league opponents, helped to compile an unimpressive season record. Individual stand-outs on the team, notably among the pitchers, should however prove a valuable addition to next year's varsity squad.

"What a night! All the lights are out and no one's on deck. Now is my chance to climb back aboard ship. I hope the chief petty officer didn't pick this time to go for a stroll," "Argi" sighs as he sneaks back aboard after one of his lively shore leaves.

"Mission accomplished!" "Argi" is safely back in his bunk below. As he contemplates the highlights of the past e v e n i n g his thoughts wander back to the "activities" that he participated in while a student at Argo High. "Those were really affairs," he reminisces. "Weeks of work and planning were spent to insure the success of events such as Homecoming, Keen Teen Awards, the Coronation, the Talent Show, the Argolite dance and the many other special occasions. Yet, when the day arrived, they were all over too soon."

Argonauts l o o k forward to these affairs, liberally sprinkled throughout the year. They form an outlet from the hum-drum of everyday life, they add to everyone's enrichment of their school days and leave with them memories never to be forgotten. "May these nights never cease!"

The pageant was climaxed when the 1959 Homecoming Queen, Aggie Tomich, and her escort marched to the platform where she knelt to be crowned and to be presented with the official symbols of her reign, the scepter and silver football.

Grin on the Seniors' giraffe changed to tears after prizes were awarded; it came in fourth.

Future Craftsmen "mowed down Leyden" and all opposition to take first prize among club floats.

Boop-boop-ee-doo, and flappers too!

Twirlers lead band through town.

1959 HOMECOMING PARADE THRILLS CROWD

Classes and clubs went all out to make the 1959 Homecoming a truly impressive event. The results of their efforts were reflected in the generous array of clever and beautiful floats.

The Juniors carried off the first prize trophy with their stork and slogan, "We're expecting a victory." Second place went to the Sophomores. Their float depicted a rocket ship surrounded by martian creatures. The Club prize went to the handy Future Craftsmen whose saw was ready to "Cut Leyden down."

Look of anxiety illuminates cheerleaders' faces at a crucial moment during game.

A perfect Homecoming day was marred only by the football varsity's loss to East Leyden by a score of 7-0.

A sustained march downfield netted the visitors their seven points in the first quarter. Thereafter the hard but cleanly fought game see-sawed back and forth without either team crossing the goal line again.

But spirits were only slightly dampened and soon after the game a huge throng of Homecoming celebrants jammed the old gym. Colorful autumn leaves, hay stalks and pumpkins gave the gym a festive, Indian summer atmosphere that inspired the crowd to really enjoy themselves and dance to their hearts' content. A fitting climax to a fun-filled day.

Happiness is reflected in the shining eyes of Faye as she looks up at admiring David.

PERFORMANCE OF "DAVID CHARLES" PLAYS TO CAPACITY CROWD

The difficulties and problems that arise when a high school boy of average ability is forced to live up to his father's brilliant reputation, was the plot of the Senior Play "The Defiance of David Charles." Eight weeks of parties and perseverance by amateur actors and actresses were brought to a climactic finale, Friday and Saturday, November 14, and 15, before what proved to be the largest crowd yet to view an Argo Community High School play.

Stage Manager, B. Havlicek directs S. Strader, M. Libovsky and P. Dubas as they insert a bookcase into the wall of the principal's office.

GUESTS HONOR QUEEN DELORES AND ROYAL COURT

Cheers and tears were mingled as the '59 Basketball Queen Delores Shubert and her ladies-in-waiting Nancy Moore, Linda Nelson and Lovey Kuglarz were announced to an anxiously awaiting audience. The Queen and her court were as bright and sparkly as the silver, red and pink decorations for the Mystic Moment Ball. Later tired from the rigorous festivals the court sat back to let all the magic of those last glorious moments sink in while couples drifted by to Ed. Kroll's heavenly music.

DANCING IN A WINTER WONDERLAND

Black and silver balloons, suspended silver stars, glimmering blue light, a revolving aluminum tree and multi-hued party dresses added sparkle to the S.A.B. mid-winter dance, "Winter Wonderland."

Guests swayed and twirled to the music of alumni, Ed Kroll, then dashed to the refreshment booth to sip cooling fruit punch served by student Hostesses.

At the evening's end, the balloons were dropped upon surprised guests dancing that "Last One."

Thirsty guests sip punch at intermission.

JUNIORS ADD NEW TWIST TO OLD PROVERB!

"You Can't Take It With You," a hilarious comedy by George Kaufman and Moss Hart, was the title of this years' Junior Class play. The play, presented on April 24 and 25 by students under the direction of Mr. Haake, and assistant directors, Jimmie White and John Santora, portrayed a few of the misadventures of the members of a family who believe in expressing themselves to the "Nth" degree.

This zany bunch included among their escapades such activities as making firecrackers, painting in the abstract and studying grand opera. Due to the fact that the play was presented late in the year, the pictures on these pages were taken at the tryouts.

KEENEST TEENS CHOSEN BY FELLOW STUDENTS

The student body acknowledged the outstanding students in Argo Community High School by selecting them to be Keen Teens. The Argonauts nominated three people for each category and the highest five chosen in the various categories were placed on the final ballot.

All was kept secret till the announcement of the winners on St. Valentine's Day at the Keen Teen Hop. Surprise, amazement, jubilance and hysterics were the emotions expressed by the deserving winners. Award winning Keen Teens received trophies that will always be cherished.

AUDIENCE PEEKS INTO LOVELAND

The Keen Teen program, "Look into Loveland" was sponsored by the Quill and Scroll, honorary journalistic fraternity. In the show Father Time transported the audience into fantasy land to show how the Queen of Hearts got her king. In the midst of the courts' matchmaking the Keen Teen presentations and the Talent Show were presented. In the skit, the Queen, after rejecting several suitors, fell in love with a king incognito and invited the guests to attend a dance, Cupids Capers, to celebrate their engagement.

Frank Riggio, Merlin the Magician, gets a taste, eggs and milk, of his own tricks from irate Barb Havelicek.

The day has finally arrived. "Argi" is standing in line to receive that treasured diploma. Gone is the everyday drudgery that is part of the life of an apprentice seaman. Gone also are the treasured moments that a seaman has enjoyed during off duty hours, the fun he had on shore leaves and the camaraderie he enjoyed as a member of the football team. No longer does the "Big Brass" look quite as awe inspiring as it did when "Argi" first joined up. And what about all those old "Sea bears" that pushed him around as a raw recruit. Now he's an old "sea dog" himself, and other rookies have come along to be bossed as he once was.

"There really are a lot of similarities between high school and the Navy," muses "Argi." "The officers are a lot like the teachers and administrators. The classes can easily be compared with the rank and file Navy men. Club meetings in high school were held during off hours much like the friendly card games we had when we were off duty. And what's so different between going to a high school dance and going dancing on shore leave? And, of course, sports are sports, no matter where you play."

These are the thoughts running through "Argi's" head as he steps up to receive his diploma, a hand clasp and a "Well done, Argi!"

SENIORS TAKE TIME TO LOOK BACK — THEN AHEAD

The Senior Class of 1959 enthusiastically looked forward to performing those duties accorded to all graduates. These included checking and rechecking appointments with the photographer to make certain that they would look just right for that all important Senior portrait. They also chose graduation announcements with care, and carefully filled out personal information sheets for the Argolite. Later on in the year graduation caps and gowns were fitted and then finally graduation practices began. The financially and otherwise successful performance of "The Defiance of David Charles" enabled the class to contribute handsomely to the Argolite, and to present the school with a class gift. The Senior class sponsored a profitable after-a-game hop and enjoyed a memorable prom evening at the Shorland Hotel as guest of the Junior class. Class members assembled together for a farewell banquet just before graduation to dine and dance and reminisce over high school days that were fast coming to an end.
